Barthuli Trial Witnesses Testify in Dark

Not even near darkness could prevent the inner disputed workings of the Jefferson Elementary School District from becoming a public spectacle Monday before Superior Court Judge Robert E. Carey in Redwood City.

A power failure, which cast the courtroom into a back closet atmosphere for more than four hours, didn't hinder the witnesses as the trial of Roger Barthuli resumed after a two day intermission. Barthuli, fired as associate superintendent for business last summer, is fighting to regain his job amidst charges that he failed to perform his duties.

Also fired was Supt. Frank L. Greenwood, who earlier "settled" his case after one day of trial by agreeing to accept $20,000 and severe his relationship with the district.

The trial of the administrators is unprecedented in San Mateo County, court sources contend.

Monday's session concentrated on testimony concerning bidding and purchase procedures — or the lack of them.

Robert E. Hamrick, chief member of the state audit team of the Jefferson District, testified that the administrative officer "failed to call for bids for a firewall project in one of the schools, although the State Education Code requires bidding when services and goods exceed more than $5,000 for labor and $8,000 for materials."

The contract exceeded those amounts, Hamrick testified, although he did not specify the amount in his testimony.

Under examination by William Johnston, attorney for the district, Hamrick said he received a copy of a letter sent to Barthuli in June 28, 1972, from then Deputy Dist. Att. James Parmalee, which said that the contract should go to bid because it was over $5,000.

Although not relating to specific incidences, Barthuli's attorney, William Brown, established on three occasions from Hamrick's testimony that the school district often received contradictory opinions from the District Attorney's office, which provides county school districts with legal advice.

Hamrick, who lead an audit team last spring after citizen complaints reached the state, testified that he found there were numerous instances of amounts being added to purchase orders by the administration after the purchase orders had been confirmed by the board of trustees.

He said there were four such orders last year where additions exceeded the approved amount of $50 to $1000.

On cross examiniation, Hamrick told Brown that purchase orders often are estimates.

At one point, Hamrick testified that he believed the major problem in the district was the formation if information submitted to the board for approval.

Hamrick also said that he did not discover any "illegal practices" other than not following the state guidelines for bidding of contracts.

When asked his personal opinion, Hamrick said he believed the $8,000 and $5,000 figures are "low."

On other topics, the state auditor testified that his investigation uncovered instances when individual board members requested action of the administrators, although, in his words, the normal practice is for the board majority to formally request an action. He did not name trustees.

Related, Hamrick said his review of board minutes showed that it was often difficult to determine what action was being requested.

Considerable testimony was given by Hamrick and Mrs. Dorothy Adams, president of the board of trustees, about an incident several months ago in which the district superintendent and his three deputy or associate superintendents obtained 2 per cent pay increases allegedly not granted them.

Residents Debate Street Hazards

Has that stretch of South Mayfair Avenue in Daly City, between the Westlake Shopping Center and Poncetta Drive, become a race track, a hazard to motorists and a potential danger to pedestrians from muggers?

Residents of the 100 block of the busy street seem to think so.

And they voiced their complaints and suggestions on the matter at a recent meeting of the city council.

Louis Giannini, spokesman for the group of homeowners, said motorists violate the 25 mile-per-hour speed limit daily, using the street as an alternate route to and

Vandalism Strikes Jefferson District

Officials of the Jefferson Elementary School District had a shattering experience Monday — they were told how much it cost to replace glass broken by vandals last year.

Along with a report that it cost taxpayers in the district some $31,225 for glass and labor during the 1972-73 school year, school trustees are now reviewing a new vandalism policy drafted by Dr. William Fowler.

Acting Supt. Keith Breon has generally recommended adoption of Fowler's suggested policies in dealing with the vandalism situation that over-all cost the JESD some $42,000 last year.

Of this amount, less than $4,000 in losses were attributable to burglaries.

Breon and Fowler want a hardline policy adopted by the school board, a policy that will make parents of children who are apprehended for burglary or vandalism responsible for payment.

A $25 reward is also being offered by the district for information leading to the apprehension of individuals—adults or children — found guilty of vandalism or burglary.

Fowler has taken his suggested policies, drafted under provisions of the Safe Schools Act of 1973—a step further than previously enacted: He wants to establish a sort of "school fund" at each of the district's 22 schools.

The amount of the fund would be allocated by the district based on a $1-per-pupil basis. No school would receive less than $300 under this plan.

Each time an incident of vandalism or burglary was experienced at a facility, the cost of replacement would be deducted from that school's fund.

At the end of the year whatever was left over in the fund could be used in any way the principal and staff of the school decide upon.

Hopefully, the policy will have a substantial affect on curbing vandalism by making all children within a school feel he or she is contributing to safeguarding property, proponents of the policy say.

Flood Project Approved Trustees Ponder School Site Fate; New City Park?

The Daly City C ouncil took up the question of its financial participation in the $5.5 million Colma Creek Flood Control project now shaping up in the North County and, except for a few conditions, will participate.

One of the "conditions" is that of being repaid any money loaned to the district, with interest.

Daly City's share of the five-city participation, reached after months of study, is 18 per cent of the total cost, or $720,000 over the next two years.

The money would be repaid to the city over an eight-year period starting in 1976.

But the council and city administration feel this money should be earning interest during that time.

City Atty. Albert Polonsky said he thinks the city should cooperate in helping "clear up this matter" of flooding in the lower portions of the creek — namely, South San Francisco.

He emphasized such participation would not be an admission that the city was liable for any past flood damage, but rather copoperation as a "good neighbor" in helping to alleviate the problem.

Councilman Paul Hupf, on the other hand, expressed unhappiness over the matter, pointing out that all too often in the past other cities failed to reciprocate on projects when approached by Daly City representatives.

He did not elaborate.

The Flood Control District, as established, set up three zones of responsibility. Daly City is in the "third zone" and South San Francisco the first.

Some members of the council, while expressing a desire to assist in the project, charged that the flooding was "self inflicted."

Hupf blamed South San Francisco's filling and development of the bay at the mouth of the creek for creating the flood problem.

However, Rowe said there were arguments that flooding was caused by degrees "both upstream and downstream."

"The law says the responsibility on improvements is both up and down stream (along the creek)," Rowe said.

What to do with the undeveloped Savage School site on Escuela Drive is expected to dominate tonight's meeting of the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees.

A new law, scheduled to become effective in 1974, places the district in a precarious financial posture as regards the 21-acre Savage site.

Unless the site is developed into a school, that the majority of the board and acting superintendent Keith Breon feel is not now needed, it must pay non-use taxes in the future.

How much these taxes will be is not known at this time, Breon said.

On the other hand, a spokesman for the State Office of Local Assistance, Department of General Services, which has control of such matters in Sacramento, has informed the district the property could be sold and any excess monies derived from this sale, once the outstanding loan with the state is paid off, could be placed in a capital outlay fund.

The district bought the land in 1964 for some $829,000. Improvements cost an additional $490,000. The funds for this project came from the State School Building Aid Program.

Breon said the district still owed the state some $280,000 for the property.

A "horseback appraisal" of the land, snuggled in a corner bounded by Cabrillo Freeway, Escuela Drive and Cerro Drive, was recently $2.7 million, it was learned.

The board school board majority previously took the stand that the properties are unsuitable for a school.

Further, the district has undergone a dramatic reduction in average daily student attendance in recent years and experts are predicting a zero growth ratio in coming years.

Breon feels the site should be sold and monies kept in a "kitty" to be used when and where a new school is needed.

"Where that school may be is unknown to us at this time," Breon told this newspaper. "It may be in the San Bruno Mountain area, or it could just as well be in another section of the city."

He said development of Daly City coupled with student population would dictate where and when such a facility would be built.

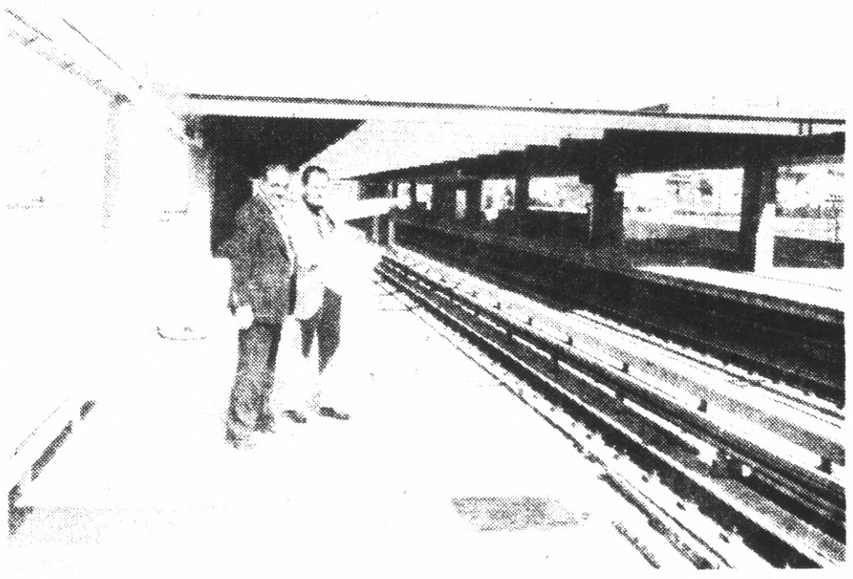
Meanwhile, if the property, which had been a bone of contention among certain board trustees and ousted superintendent Frank Greenwood in the past, is sold the monies would be lumped together with the $1.8 million now on deposit from a bond sale approved by voters some five years ago.

This $1.8 million had been earmarked for development of the Savage site.

Interest being accrued on this money is now gradually paying off the original bonds at no cost to taxpayers.

There is also the possibility, albeit remote some observers say, that the site could not be sold to private developers. In this case, the property might be sold or leased to the city of Daly City for use as a park.

City manager David Rowe said the city would be receptive to leasing the property, "but buying it at prices that have been quoted to me is out of the question."



READYING PLANS — Daly City Chamber of Commerce President Frank Spadarella (left), and councilman McRobert Stewart put finishing touches on plans for opening of Bay Area Rapid Transit station on Knowles Avenue now set for Nov. 3 starting at noon. Some 450 San Mateo and San Francisco dignitaries have been invited to the event. Following brief ceremonies the BART trains will be open for public inspection and free rides.

Phone Suspect Arrested in D.C.

It's not nice to try to tool Ma Bell, according to Daly City police.

A San Mateo man was arrested over the past weekend after he was identified as the person who walked into the Globe Tavern, 7379 Mission Street, Daly City, last September and allegedly tried to break into a cash box on a public telephone.

The particular phone the man and a female companion are accused of trying to pilfer had been rigged with an alarm by the security department of Pacific Telphone Company.

When the cash box was pulled from the phone instrument a local alarm was sounded.

It was learned the phone company, in a drive to thwart such acts, has installed these alarms in phone booths throughout the state.

After the alarm was touched off, the man and woman companion fled through the rear door of the bar to a waiting car parked nearby, witnesses told police.

The incident occurred last Sept. 18, about 6:30 p.m.

Arrested by San Mateo police Sunday and charged with burglary in connection with the incident was Frederick Groves, 37, 666 Mariners' Island Blvd., San Mateo.

Daly City police said Groves has a prior record of breaking into telephone cash boxes. The woman is still at large, police said.

South San Francisco Backs Housing Funds

The South San Francisco City Council Monday voted 4-0 a resolution of intention to make up the annual deficit for the San Francisco Housing Authority.

This action clears the way for freeing over a million dollars in Housing and Urban Development funds to rebuild the city's 30-year-old 40-unit housing project, located on C Street.

HUD had done a survey showing that a 40-unit project would not pay its own way, and had recommended that the city build a 100-unit project. However, the funds were frozen before the city could start work, and the project was cut back to 40 units — but with provision for adding 60 more units at a later date.

Councilmen were assured that the annual deficit would come to about $5000; local housing officials, however, thought it would be a good deal less, through certain savings.

In another action, the City Council gave its final approval to reclassification of a 1.28-acre building site at Westborough and Callan boulevards, from "medium high-density residential" to "neighborhood commercial."

This clears the way for construction of a medical center and office building on the site which overlooks Westborough Junior High, in place of duplexes.

The Planning Commission had at first denied the rezoning petition of investor Joseph Haggarty. Haggarty had appealed to the City Council, which favored the project and returned it to Planning Commission, which in turn reversed its vote.

Reasons for the rezoning given were that Westborough already has too many people, and that the site was not suitable for residential use since it was located on two major arterials.

Councilmen deemed two beautification projects as completed and — upon recommending of Dick Milkovich, acting director of Parks and Recreation — voted to make final payments to the contractor. These projects were on Westborough Boulevard Extension and along a railroad spur line.

Councilmen adopted one resolution commending the All Souls Teen Club for their volunteer work in preserving the green area of Sign Hill, and another resolution accepting the common greens in Willow Gardens for maintenance.

SSF Adopts Fire Code: Standards Imposed

City councilmen in South San Francisco Monday observed Fire Prevention Week in a particularly meaningful manner — they adopted the 1973 Uniform Fire Code, imposing higher standards for fire protection for new buildings.

When the code goes into effect, all new buildings will require automatic sprinkler systems if their total floor area is 10,000 square feet or more, or if they are at least 40 feet high, or have at least three stories.

Fire Chief Lawrence A. Toellner reported to the council that as presently manned, the fire department cannot put enough manpower in to fight a fire adequately, if it involves a large area or many stories.

In addition, the new code provides that anyone installing, servicing or selling fire alarm systems would have to get a permit.

A fee system will be set up for issuance of all permits required by the code, as well as other building services rended by the fire department.

Anyone remodeling a building would have to do so in accordance with provisions of the code.

D.C. Garbage Rates Up

Claiming it has suffered "severe financial losses" in recent weeks as a result of a 17-day employees' strike that hit the company last month, the Daly City Scavenger Company asked for and got a boost in collection rates by the city council Oct. 9.

Scavenger company representative Richard Dwyer, the firm's accountant, said the company experienced a $30,000 loss during Sept.-Oct. as a result of the city's action in refunding collection fees to customer households in the city.

"We still had to pick up all the refuse at the end of the strike, even though we gave these people a break in the collection fees," Dwyer explained.

The company had asked for a 60 cent increase in collection rates for the first 40 gallon can, with a lesser charge of $1 for a household's second can.

But the council decided to accept City Mgr. David Rowe's recommendation of raising the rate only 50 cents — to $2.70 per month — for the first can and allowing the company to collect an additional fee of $1.50 for a second can.

Newspapers and agricultural cuttings are picked up without charge, scavenger company president Al Sereni said.

Daly City's rate increase appears to herald a Bay Area-wide garbage collection rate increase, according to letters of support received from neighboring scavengers on the issue.

Leonard Stefanelli, president of the Sunset Scavenger Company of San Francisco and several Peninsula scavenger operations, said, in a letter to Sereni last month, he must ask city administrations for rate boosts.

Stefanelli said he regretted the necessity of a rate increase and scolded Local 350 of the Teamsters Union for creating the situation.

The scavenger company president said "recent demands by Local 350 (of the Teamsters) have been far from 'reasonable' and certainly not with the so-called guidelines set by the Presidential Wage and Price Control Commission, leaving no other alternative but to request collection rates to offset the cost of these high wages."

The Daly City Scavengers are also members of Teamsters Union Local 350. The membership agreed to accept a 47 per cent wage and fringe benefit hike after the prolonged strike in August.

George Stagnaro, partner in the South San Francisco Scavenger Company, said his firm had not had a collection rate increase in some five years and intended to seek an increase inasmuch as "we find we can no longer operate at this rate and contemplate asking for an increase in the near future."

The Daly City scavengers are the city's biggest "outside" revenue producers paying some $100,000 annually to the city in franchise fees, plus gross receipts taxes and business license fees, Rowe said.

The council in a 4-0 vote with councilman Paul Hupf absent, approved an overall 27 per cent rate hike.

A breakdown of this increase disclosed 13.5 per cent goes to employees' salaries; 13.5 per cent to new equipment, higher gasoline, utility and repair costs, and franchise fees to the city, Dwyer explained.

Redevelopment Plan Delayed

The redevelopment issue that has been boiling for years in Daly City was placed on a back burner to simmer for at least another three weeks by the city council at their Oct. 9 meeting.

A regular meeting held at 5 p.m., attended by only four members of the council which also acts as the Redevelopment Agency, authorized an agreement with Richard T. Dwyer for 1973-74 audit services.

There was no discussion of earlier rumors circulating that the Council-Agency would halt redevelopment in the Bay Area Rapid Transit District Station area on Knowles Ave.

Two weeks ago, in the wake of Councilman Paul Hupf's dissenting vote on amendments to the city's General Plan, which could pave the way for redevelopment in the city, at least two disgruntled councilmen said they were "all for scrapping redevelopment."

But Hupf did not attend either the Oct. 9 redevelopment meeting, or an 8 p.m. council meeting which was to discuss redevelopment proposals made by representatives of the Concerned Clergy of Daly City and members of the Original Daly City Protective Association, longtime opponents of redevelopment.

Father Tom McElligott, of the Our Lady of Perpetual Help church on Wellington Ave., in the heart of the proposed target area for redevelopment, presented a seven point recommendation for citizen participation in the issue during the "oral communication" portion of the council's agenda.

Father McElligott's presentation was taken under submission quietly by the council, with a committment made that the matter would be discussed within the next three weeks.

Board OKs Project In Colma

Overruling a number of protests, the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors voted Oct. 9 to proveed with the East Colma Creek storm sewer improvement project, project.

However, the board held up on award of contract for the project until the low bid of $327,508 can be approved by the State Division of Highways, since state property is included in the project.

Deputy County Engineer Vic Sanders noted that the low bid for the work is considerably below the estimated $475,000 submitted by the engineer's office.

Noting that there was less than a majority protest of property owners, Supervisor Gerald F. Day urged a go-ahead with the work. He said that the county has a long-standing agreement with Daly City to undertake the work.

Oldsmobile Dealer Moves to Colma

Lesher-Muirhead Oldsmobile has become Northern California's largest exclusive Oldsmobile dealer with its move from San Francisco into its new modern facility at 700 Serramonte Boulevard across from the Serramonte Shopping Center, according to co-owners Ed Fleck and Bob Baumann.

Lesher-Muirhead has been located at Army and South Van Ness in San Francisco for the past 40 years.

"A growing need for additional space forced us to look for a location which would offer us close proximity to both regular customers and the new ones located on the fast growing San Mateo County Peninsula. And that," according to co-owners Ed Fleck and Bob Baumann of Millbrae, "is why we chose Serramonte, an ideal centrally located area.

"We'll be conveniently close to all our customers."

The new 32,500 square foot facility is located on over four beautifully landscaped acres and its masonary stone construction takes full advantage of the many new building techniques and features developed to provide maximum customer satisfaction and internal efficiency.

There is plenty of customer parking space, a lounge complete with television, reading material, coffee and snacks. "Loaners" will be available and because there are so many nearby golf courses, customers can easily enjoy a "round" while their cars are being serviced.

County Civil Service

Ordinance Delayed

Adoption of changes in the county's civil service ordinance code, which would transfer salary and employe benefit decisions to the jurisdiction of the Board of Supervisors, was postponed for two weeks Oct. 9 by the board.

Frank Gillis, business representative for Local 829, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFSCME), which represents 10 county employe groups, requested the continuance to Oct. 23, to permit time for meet-and-confer sessions with county administrative officials concerning the proposed new functions resulting from the changes.

Revamping of the civil service ordinance was decreed by the county's voters in the June, 1972, primary election when they approved the necessary charter revision.

Basically, the ordinance change divides responsibilities between the board and the Civil Service Commission, with the latter to adopt revisions in recruiting, examinations and job classifications and handle disciplinary actions and appeals.

Under the Board of Supervisors, County Personnel Director Richard Kennedy would decide on merit increases, hiring of personnel at above opening salary steps, and authorize leaves of absences. Appeals to his decisions would be up to County Manager M. D. Tarshes.

Other changes would provide for no-limit for accruing of sick leave, reduce from 12 to 6 months the maximum leave of absence for personal reasons, place a four-year maximum on leaves of absence for any employe who accepts temporary private employment which is closely related to his county job and from which the county can expect to benefit.

The new changes also specify that any county employe who is absent from his job without satisfactory cause for five consecutive days will be determined to have tendered his resignation.

In requesting a continuance before the board takes action, Gillis said that it has not been possible to get leaders of the 10 employe groups together to review the changes. Now that copies of the new ordinance are available, Gillis said, the union can soon be prepared to enter meet-and-confer sessions.

He accused the county of trying to push through the changes. However, Richard Mabee, deputy county personnel director, reported that there is nothing to preclude discussion of changes and revisions in the new ordinance at annual meet-and-confer sessions concerning salaries and employe benefits.

Serramonte Readies for Homecoming

Preparations for Serramonte High School's Homecoming celebration are well underway. The football game against Jefferson and the Homecoming Dance are scheduled Oct. 19.

Rally Commissioner, Carol Ziegler has many plans for the week of Homecoming. Each day of Spirit Week will have various activities including color day, poster day, and rally day.

In addition to the usual elections for queen and princesses, Serramonte students will elect a king and four princes.

The Homecoming Court will be announced at the rally Friday. Each class will present a skit at the rally with a theme which pertains to their class. The classes can win points toward the Spirit Trophy awarded each June.

A small group of people, under the supervision of Carol Ziegler, has formed a committee for the purpose of organizing the week's activities.

Stamps by Post Help Yule Mailings

With the Christmas mailing rush drawing near, Daly City Postmaster Daniel F. Coffey last week reminded custom they may purchase their postage stamps by mail.

Earlier Christmas mailing is anticipated through use of the U. S. Postal Service's Stamps by Mail program, Cof- fey said.

Last year saw a sharp upswing in orders for the category of 100 eight-cent stamps one of five assortments offered, during the pre-Christmas period, Coffey added.

Stamps by Mail order forms, which include self-addressed return envelopes, are available from post offices.

Customers pay no postage to send in their stamp orders or to receive the stamps. A small service charge covers the cost of the two-way postage and guarantees the customer against loss in transit.

North County Meet For County Agency

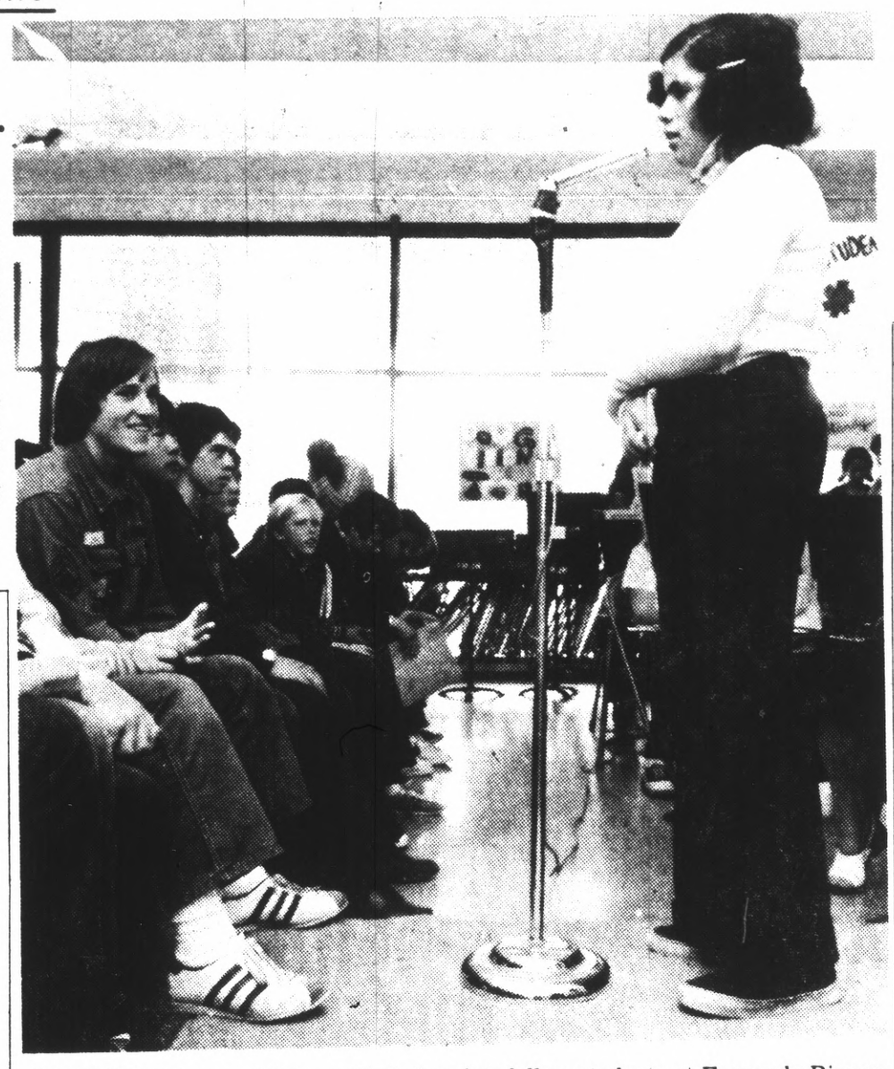
It was a case of Mohammed going to the mountain Oct. 10 in South San Francisco.

That, at least, is the way South San Franciscan Bette Higgins referred to the fact the County Park and Recreation Commission held its first official meeting in a North County city.

One of the agenda items was listed as "San Bruno Mountain Status." Mrs. Higgins is one of the leaders in the "Save San Bruno Mountain" campaign.

However, the commissioners did set a public hearing for Nov. 7 at 8 p.m., at a yet to be announced North County site (another first), to discuss a conceptual plan of a proposed regional park on the mountain.

At the beginning of the meeting, Chairman Ernest J. R. Ribera noted that all the meetings being held in Redwood City do not give "open and direct communication." He said "honest communication and debate is in order."



SPEAKING at a candidates rally before her fellow students at Fernando Rivera Intermediate School in Daly City, is Valentina Rovai, who is running for student body secretary. Last Wednesday the school set aside seventh and eighth periods for a rally to hear prospective student body officers present their platforms.

Talent Is Sought for Seiji Ozawa

A Talent Research Committee has been formed by the San Francisco Symphony Association to seek knowledge of Bay Area musicians of exceptional professional talent who might not otherwise come to the attention of the Association or of Maestro Seiji Ozawa.

Symphony Production Manager William Bernell will chair the new group, according to Association President David N. Plant. Symphony Governors Mrs. Agnes Albert and James H. Schwabacher, Jr., who also serve on the association's Artistic Policy Committee, are members of the new group.

DAVID A. WNUK

Coast Guard Radarman Third Class David A. Wnuk, husband of the former Miss Helen Y. Lichtman of 15 W. Haven Drive, Daly City, is participating in a four-nation Pacific Allied naval exercise called RIMPAC 73.

The exercise, conducted in the Hawaiian Islands area, is designed to test all phases of Allied naval operations, including anti-submarine and anti-air defensive operations. Other participating nations are Australia, Canada and New Zealand.

Anti-Poverty Program Urged for Coastside

A partially completed survey of the need for an anti-poverty program on the Coastside has disclosed the needs of the poor that are far greater than anticipated.

That was the report of Edward R. Becks, executive director of the county's Economic Opportunity Commission at the commission meeting in San Mateo Oct. 10.

The meeting turned into a study session when the commission was unable to hold an official meeting, lacking a quorum by one member.

Spanish-speaking residents of the Coastside have far more housing needs and need for food stamps than expected, Becks said. Becks added that he is preparing a report for County Manager M. D. Tarshes and said he hopes the Board of Supervisors will provide money for a program.

Out of 193 persons living at poverty level contacted to date in the survey, 60 to 70 per cent are Spanish-speaking, Becks said. A survey of Redwood City, in contrast, Becks reported, showed an overwhelming majority of those needing help are white.

Becks said while the county's War on Poverty has funds to last to the end of the year and may get more Office of Economic Opportunity money, it is more likely that future funding will be from revenue-sharing money at the local level. He urged the commission to "stabilize" its funding now so a program can be submitted to the county and cities.

Becks complained of the difficulty of getting elected officials to serve on the commission.

The appointment of Mrs. Betty Plank of Portola Valley, president of Little House in Menlo Park, as director of a new Senior Citizens' Nutrition Project drew the ire of Commissioner Julius Castelan of Daly City.

He complained as a representative of the northern part of the county he had not been informed a screening committee to interview applicants was being appointed, that a senior citizen should have been in charge of the program, and that a Spanish-speaking person should have been considered.

Mrs. Alice J. Gonzales, director of the county's Emergency Food and Medical Program, said ads for the post had been placed in every newspaper in the county for 14 days, and not one Spanish-speaking citizen had applied.

Commissioner Helen S. Kerwin, who termed herself a senior citizen on the committee, said age was a consideration in the screening of applicants and a number of qualified persons had been dropped because of their youth.

The committee narrowed 19 applicants down to four who were given a written test by Becks, who made the final appointment. Committee members and Becks said they both agreed that Mrs. Plank was the best person for the position.

"I had a right to be on that commission," Castelan complained.

Mrs. Selma Bascara, homemaker coordinator for the county, reported on a new "Chore Services Program" which is being started to supplement the Homemakers' Program.

According to Robert D. Rippeto, a commission member and director of social services for the county, 1,293 people are now being served by the homemakers' program, in persons are sent to the homes of invalids to bathe, feed and keep eep house for them.

Workers in the new Chore Service Program, which like its companion program is administered jointly by the Economic Opportunity Commission the County Social Services Division, will do light housework, including essential shopping, simple household repairs, cleaning and other tasks.

The two programs are replacing the Attendant Care Program, which Rippeto reported had no supervision and a number of problems.

'Romans' Exhibit On Display

The "Romans as Builders" is the subject of an exhibit currently on show through Nov. 21 in the Frank V. de Bellis Collection in the Library of San Francisco State University.

This show includes woodcuts, engravings and photographs of typical structures as they still existed in the 16-19th centuries. The earlier prints, in some cases, provide the only extant evidence of the forms of certain ancient buildings.

Architectural drawings of reconstructions, elevations and floor plans reflect the interpretation of remains by archaeologists and historians of architecture since the excavations and restorations began in the 18th century.

Exhibit preparation and design is by Mrs. Julie Raiser ana, Mrs. Rose Grabstein and Mrs. Frances Stevens of the de Bellis Collection. Photographs are by David Okimot of the University's Audio Visual Department. Serena J. de Bellis is the Curator of the Collection.

Homes Burglarized

Two homes on Calvert Drive in South San an Francisco were burglarized yesterday with the possibility of the same thief escaping with some $1,500 in cash and coin, police said.

The home of Margaret L. Gouge was hit apparently between 6 and 10 p.m. with entrance gained through a rear window, police said.

The burglar took $1,200 in currency and about $130 in coin, police said.

Nearby, at the home of David C. Berry, which was burglarized at about the same hours, and with the same method of operation, the thief escaped with about $200 in Kennedy half dollars.

Hope Lutheran Church will be the site of tomorrow's Kick Off luncheon sponsored by the Daly City Girl Scout Association as the fall program to recruit adult leadership gets underway.

Mrs. Jackie Plichcik is coordinating the potluck affair at which the new leaders are to be the honored guests. Everyone attending the event is asked to bring a plate and silverware.

Mrs. Margaret Connolly, the association chairwoman, explained that hot dishes for the luncheon are being prepared by experienced Scouts.

During the morning session, leaders will see a slide presentation of BLESS MAN, the holiday production currently scheduled for the San Francisco Masonic auditorium Dec. 8 and 9.

On Saturday many of the areas' leaders and girls will be taking part in a Junior Jamboree in Junipero Serra Park.

Mrs. Mary Ann Dale is the coordinator of this full day of camping which is designed and planned as a means of introducing new leaders to camping.

DURING THE YEARS many requests for donations have come across my desk, and, in most worthy cases, I've relayed the request to my readers. I thought I'd had all kinds of "drives" but this week I received a very novel, and worthwhile, request.

Ted Kelley, Friends Outside's Man on the Inside, is asking for playing cards, pinochle cards and dominoes to be distributed to men waiting trial in the San Francisco Hall of Justice.

According to Kelley, men sometimes are held up to three months in the hall, crowded into "windowless, damp cement cells. As many as 12 men are held in each cell and the hall lacks exercise and recreation facilities," Kelley explained.

Kelley added that the men require something to occupy their time and their minds, and most frequently they ask him to get cards and games for them. If you have any in your home not being used please consider dropping them by the Friends Outside office located in Lakeside Presbyterian Church, 3101 Nineteenth Avenue in San Francisco.

On the subject of Friends Outside north Peninsula residents who watched the Channel Four Special News Report this past Monday may have seen some of their neighbors being interviewed as a part of the special coverage given the Friends Outside effort in the Bay Area. The local director, Mrs. Rudy Enberg, is a South San Francisco resident and many of the most active volunteers hale from the northern Peninsula.

VOLUNTEERS are being sought by the North Peninsula Auxiliary for Florence Crittenton Services to provide one to one assistance to single girls who are pregnant or have infants.

According to Mrs. Richard McClain, president of the local auxiliary, the new program, which is being sponsored by the Florence Crittenton Services and its auxiliaries, will provide opportunities to serve for men and women, career people or grandparents, housewives or college students.

According to Gloria Cooper, program coordinator, the program needs people who are sensitive to teenagers and who would be willing to give the time to drive them to doctor appointments, give suggestions on budgeting and shopping, help select items for layettes, hire babysitters and direct the young women to counselors.

According to Mrs. McClain, volunteers may elect to work directly with the girls while others may prefer to play supportive roles. All volunteers will be trained at a series of sessions.

Anyone interested in more information about the project is urged to call 366-8437. Mrs. McClain stressed that volunteers are not required to become members of the auxiliary.

TUESDAY NIGHT the witches and goblins will make a preview appearance at the annual Halloween party given by the Fifty Plus Club of Pacifica.

Mrs. Helen Sprowl and Marall Smith are co-chairmen of the party. Members and their friends are invited to come and bring their dancing slippers. The fun begins at 7:45 p.m.

IT IS NOT too early for some people to be wrapping Christmas presents. Witness the recent "Christmas" visit to the Scandinavian Seaman's Mission in San Francisco by 10 members of the American Baptist Women's Association of the Westlake Community Baptist Church.

Mrs. Ivyle Lederer of that group reports that ladies carried with them stacks of gaily wrapped Christmas gifts which will be distributed to the Scandinavian sailors visiting San Francisco prior to Christmas.

The ladies were treated to a hearty brunch by the directors of the mission which is operated as a joint project of the American Baptist Churches and the Scandinavian Baptists.

New officers of the Westlake chapter of the American Baptist Women's Association are Mrs. Diane Muro, president; Mrs. Naomi Newkirk, vice president; Mrs. Hansje Hall, secretary; Mrs. Marjorie Davis, treasurer; Mrs. Eleanor Spitzer, vice president of missions and White Cross; Mrs. Joanne Palmer, vice president of programs. Mrs. Lederer is in charge of communications and Mrs. Marie Bernard is the vice president of literature.

JAMES D. DAVIS

Court Awards Eagle Badge

At a recent National Court of Honor, the Eagle Scout Badge was conferred on James D. Davis of Troop 148 by the troop's first Scoutmaster Lee Varney Sr.

Davis started his Scouting career in the then new Serramonte subdivision of Daly City in 1966. Upon graduation from the Cubs, he became a chapter member of Scout Troop 248 formed in 1968.

The ceremonies were attended by President Al Horn, San Mateo County Council BSA; master of ceremonies, George Swain, long active in Scouting; Ted Valoria, Order of the Arrow advisor; and Duane Amino, former scoutmaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Davis shared the table of honor with their son during the ceremonies. Davis was appointed scoutmaster of the troop in September.

Young Davis said, after receiving the Scouts' highest award, "I consider the rank of Eagle Scout to be not an ending, but a beginning of a higher commitment to be of service to others."

Dollars Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hadden Dollar of Colma are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Mary Sara, to Wayne Anthony Da San Martino.

A graduate of Westmoor High School, the future bride is now in her second year at the College of Notre Dame.

Wayne is the son of Mrs. George Pena of Daly City and the late Albert F. Da San Martino. He is also a Westmoor High School graduate.

Colma Opens Market

Farmers Market, a major full-line discount supermarket chain with 32 stores in Northern California, opened Friday in Alec Discount Department Store, 255 "D" Street, Colma.

This marks the first location for Farmers Market in San Mateo County.

"With 15,000 square feet; full-line customer service; nationally advertised brands at discount prices and our famous Idaho "Pen-Fed" quality beef, we feel we can give our customers the finest in service and quality at prices they can truly afford," stated Dave Carlson, store manager for the Sacramento-based chain.

The store hours will coincide with those of Alec: Open daily 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturdays and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Salvation Army Seeks Referrals

The Salvation Army Men's Social Service Center, which operates a rehabilitation program for alcoholics and other handicapped people, is deepening its counseling and therapeutic program, and is seeking more referrals from other agencies.

The program operates a residential center, with a capacity of 128 persons, at 1500 Valencia St., San Francisco. It adjoins shops, which produce the goods sold in the Army's Thrift Stores. The program also employs another 100 workers, not necessarily handicapped, from outside.

Patrick Landrum, a psychiatric counselor, has been added to the Center's clinical staff, directed by Dr. Richard Cramer, a Baptist minister trained at Napa State Hospital and Deuel Vocational Institution, Tracy.

Group and individual counseling, of both a religious and psycho-therapeutic nature, has been employed in the Center's program in the past, and the Center's director, Major George W. Duplain, said a plan is being devised for intensive group counseling sessions which will operate within the regular framework of work rehabilitation at the Center.e

He said the agency is interested in better acquainting other agencies with center programs and improving the mutual process of referral.

BBB: All Hams Are Not 'Virginia' Cured

By LORENE BEASLEY

There are a number of varities of cures and processing of hams in the State of Virginia. Many regard the Smithfield hams as tops in quality and price, while others say they would not or could not eat them.

The biggest problem for the buyer seems to be finding the proper way to prepare and cook them. For the Better Business Bureau, the problem is the misleading advertising of "Baked Virginia Ham" on hotel and restaurant menus. Much of this ham comes from hogs that never ate a peanut nor were raised in Virginia.

The earliest hogs ran wild in Virginia, rooting their food from the ground. From the earliest days of Colonial Virginia, hams, bacon and other pork products were an important part of the food supply of the settlers and an early item of export along with Virginia tobacco.

The town of Smithfield is located in the heart of the peanut country, next to the Isle of Wight Plantation, one of the eight original shires into which Virginia was divided in 1634. The colonists started curing pork products and exporting to the West Indies at a very early date.

The Smithfield Ham industry was started by Mallory Todd from Bermuda, prior to 1799. Long before steamships were invented, sailing boats were carrying exports of Virginia hams, bacon and tobacco to Europe and coastwise from Maine to Florida. Smithfield Hams became known far and wide for their fine flavor and quality and, because they were from Virginia, were known generally as "Virginia Ham."

It is a general rule when a successful quality product is produced, imitations appear on the market. In the 1920s, a western meat packer bought property in Smithfield and started up a packing plant for hams. The hams were shipped in from western areas, corn fed and were not processed. Carloads of these fresh hams were sent to Smithfield, smoked in the local warehouses and merchandised as "Virginia Ham."

Packers of Smithfield hams demanded protection from such imitations, and in 1926 a law was passed by the Virginia Legislature defining the hams and other pork products processed in Smithfield.

—Genuine Smithfield hams, sides, shoulders and jowls are hereby defined to be the hams, sides, shoulders and jowls which are cut from the carcasses of peanut-fed hogs, raised in the peanut belt of the State of Virginia or the State of North Carolina, and which are cured, treated, smoked and processed in the town of Smithfield, in the State of Virginia.

—Section 3-6888 provides: "Only Genuine Smithfield hams to be labeled as such — as defined."

—Section 3-669 defines "Peanut-fed hogs" as live hogs, or carcasses, raised in the peanut belts of Virginia and North Carolina.

—Section 3-671 provides a penalty for violation as a misdemeanor, subject to a fine of not less than $25 and not more than $300 for each violation.

There are slight variations among the recognized packers in Smithfield. The actual process remains a secret among the old established plants. The older the ham, the greater is the price. Frank Shertz of the BBB of Roanoke Valley, Inc., on a visit through a plant wjlas shown a ham processed in 1902. It was kept in a safe and insured for $5,000. Smithfield ham does not attain its finest quality until it is about one year old, although some packers sell them after six months curing.

PREPARING ARTICLES for their annual Santa Boutique Nov. 3, are Mrs. John Boghasion, left, and Mrs. Charles Brinlo, women of St. Martin's Lutheran Church in Daly City. The women will display their handcrafted articles at the church from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Nell Norton

Good morning, good cooks.

Thinking along the line of inexpensive entrees (and aren't we always thinking along those lines), this dish certainly fills the bill. Served with carrot and cabbage slaw and steamed brown bread, this makes an attractive and tasty dinner.

SAUSAGE AND LIMA BEAN CASSEROLE

- 2 cups dried lima beans
- 5 cups water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ cup chopped onions, lightly browned
- 1 pound pork sausage links, browned
- ½ cup chili sauce
- ½ cup catsup
- ¼ cup liquid from cooked beans
- 1½ teaspoons horseradish
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 tablespoon prepared mustard

Cover the two cups dried lima bens with 5 cups of water. Boil for two minutes, then soak overnight. Add the one teaspoon salt and boil gently until tender — 45 minutes to one hour. Drain. Reserve one-fourth cup liquid.

Fry the pound of sausage links until brown. Set aside. Pour off most the grease and cook the half cup onions until lightly browned. Add the onions, one half cup each chili sauce and catsup, one-fourth liquid from the beans, one and one-half teaspoons horseradish and one tablespoon each Worcestershire sauce and prepared mustard to the beans. Mix well.

Pour half the bens into a 2-quart casserole, arrange half the cooked sausages over beans and pour remaining beans over top. Garnish with remaining sausages. Cover and bake in 350-degree oven 30 to 40 minutes.

Serves 6.

Out of consideration for all the good cooks with lunches to pack and snacks to prepare for hungry after-schoolers, here is another very special cookie recipe. It comes from Kris Nordstram of Santa Rosa.

PEANUT BUTTER FINGERS

- 1 cup flour
- ½ cup granulated sugar
- ½ cup brown sugar
- ½ teaspoon soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup butter, (that's one cube)
- one-third cup peanut butter
- 1 egg
- ½ teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup quick cooking rolled oats
- 1 cup (6-oz.) semi-sweet chocolate bits
- 350-degree oven
- 9x13-inch pan, greased

In large mixing bowl combine the cup flour, half cup each granulated and brown sugar, half teaspoon each soda and salt, half cup butter, one-third cup peanut butter, one egg, one-half teaspoon vanilla and one cup rolled oats. Blend with mixer to coarse crumbs. Press into greased 9x13 pan. Bake 20 to 25 minutes in 350-degree oven. Remove and sprinkle immediately with the one cup chocolate bits. Let stand 5 minutes and spread evenly with spatula. Drizzle with peanut butter mixture. Cool and cut into bars.

PEANUT BUTTER DRIZZLE

- ½ cup sifted confectioners sugar
- ¼ cup peanut butter
- 2 to 4 tablespoons milk

Combine the half cup confectioners sugar, one-fourth cup peanut butter and enough milk to spread easily. (As I recall, I used the 4 tablespoons.)

CORRECTION:

The amount of shortening called for in the Peanut and Chocolate Oatmeal Cookies is one-half cup.

Home Society Holds Oct. 2 Meeting

ACT Given $125,000 U.S. Grant

A Federal grant of $125,000 to the American Conservatory Theatre was announced by San Francisco Congressman Phil Burton.

The grant, made by the National Endowment for the Arts, will provide production support for ACT's next season. It will help finance added rehearsal time, larger acting company, and funds for the company's training program.

Serramonte Begins Planning Study

A planning, programming, budgeting system pilot study is underway at Serramonte High School.

P.P.B.S. is a systematic way of applying limited money and time towards priority items.

This is accomplished by beginning with a thorough needs assessment, which determines what a school's goals for students should be, and what the school is currently doing with the students.

Serramonte's needs will be compiled from information gathered through contacts with teachers, students, parents, non-parents, businessmen and other educators. After this information is collected, a final random school and community survey will be conducted.

A Steering Committee has been created to coordinate procedural matters. It consists of the following members: Mrs. Peggy Benjamin, parent/housewife; Lowell Durham, Executive; Mrs. Patricia Kaplan, parent/housewife; Roy Hollie, parent/businessman; Ron Miguel, parent/businessman; James Wyatt, educator; Diana Ross, student; Linda Kendrick, student; Merritt Barnes, teacher; Louis Silberman, teacher; Jean Lory, librarian; and Louis Boccaleoni, Coordinator for PPBS.

A second committee of approximately 40, which will be created at a later date, will concern itself with setting priorities and finalizing statements of goals and needs.

The needs assessment is only the first step in the PPBS. Upon completion of the goals and needs, the next step is to develop a procedure for determining alternative solutions towards satisfying the needs.

This is accomplished by having school activities described in more explicit terms by those in charge of carrying out the activities. Goals, objectives, procedures, and budgets for each of the instructional program will be compiled.

Jefferson High Selling Booster Club Tickets

The Jefferson High School Student Government class is currently selling booster club season tickets to admit a family, except high school students, into any league game free.

The tickets, which can be used throughout the entire school year, costs $10 per ticket. They are available from any student government member.

Nominations have been made for Homecoming Queen and her court who will be in the parade along with the Pep Staff, Colma Intermediate band, various clubs and the Jefferson band. Each class will also participate in the festivities. The parade will start at 2 p.m. and end up at the Fontana stadium.

The Homecoming Game at Jefferson vs. Westmoor, Oct. 26 will begin at 3 p.m. following the Homecoming Parade.

The queen and princesses will be announced at the Homecoming Dance which will begin at 8 p.m.

Amendment

Today's history lesson is in reply to a young man who asked, "What gives Nixon the right to appoint a vice president? Johnson didn't get to after Kennedy was killed."

The answer lies in the Constitution, the Twenty-fifth Amendment, Section Two. "Whenever there is a vacancy in the office of the Vice President, the President shall nominate a Vice President who shall take office upon confirmation by a majority vote of both Houses of Congress."

This amendment became effective in February, 1967. Prior to that time, the Constitution did not carry a provision for appointing a vice president when a vacancy occurred. For that reason, heretofore no president has had the right to make such an appointment although the office has been vacant 18 times.

Agnew is the second vice president to resign. The first was John C. Calhoun, who represented a faction within the government that was bitterly opposed to the policies of President Andrew Jackson. Nevertheless, he stayed in his job until a crisis among the wives of cabinet officers tore open the social life of Washington, D.C.

SEVEN VICE PRESIDENTS have died while holding the office. One William Rufus King, grew sick prior to inauguration day and went to the West Indies to recover his health. Congress obliged him by passing a bill that allowed him to take the oath of office in Cuba where he was recuperating. King took the oath, but died while traveling to Washington to assume his duties. Consequently, the vice presidency was vacant for four full years. Meanwhile, the President, Franklin Pierce, proved to be an unhappy man with health so delicate it caused officials to fear for his life.

During the War of 1812, President James Madison was grievously ill. At that very time Vice President Gerry was stricken with a lung hemorrhage and died. Fortunately, the President recovered and the nation escaped the problems that would have occurred if a senator, who possessed very little knowledge of the policies of the administration and the conduct of the war, had succeeded to the presidency.

On still another occasion, the Congress initiated impeachment proceedings upon President Andrew Johnson. Had he been convicted, the Presidency would have devolved upon a senator who was opposed to the policies that had governed the nation during both Johnson's and Lincoln's administrations. He openly boasted that if he became President he would kill the whole reconstruction program that President Johnson had instituted as the policy of the land.

THE TWENTY-FIFTH AMENDMENT covers presidential disability and the succession of the vice president to the Presidency. While it has been called "the most bumbling, fatuous, ineffective alteration ever made in the organic law, the Eighteenth Amendment excepted," it straightens out a problem that could plague the nation.

In case you are interested, there is an excellent discussion of the Vice Presidency in the "Editorial Research Reports," Volume II, 1970, pages 835-856. Biographies of vice presidents and discussions of the factors that have made the office what it is today may be found in several books, among them "Heirs Apparent" by Klyde Young and Lamar Middleton; "In the Shadow of Presidents" by Michael Harwood; and "American Roulette" by Donald Young. Each of these books may be found in your public library.

Retired Newspaperman To Speak at Library

At the Friends of the Daly City Library book review to be held Oct. 25, at 10 a.m., in the Coral Room of the Westlake Branch Library, Edward B. Reynolds, local retired newspaperman and author, will share his experiences of the half century which has ensued since he got his first newspaper job in 1922 while still in his teens.

His latest writing, since retiring from The San Francisco Examiner after 15 years on the editorial staff, is a book entitled "The Death of the Dorchester," a first-hand account of the sinking of that ill-fated ship during World War II 150 miles from Greenland. A total of 675 men lost their lives in this catastrophe, including four chaplains.

Reynolds, one of 229 survivors, spent 7½ hours in the icy waters. The book, completed after a year of research, has now been submitted to publishers.

Reynolds, raised in the Montana copper country, has written a history of early mining days.

A coffee social prior to the review will be hostessed by Hospitality Chairman Elvera Sunnell, assisted by Mmes. Lloyd Wilson and Klaus Tschorsnig. A no-host luncheon honoring Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds at The Skyliner Restaurant, Skyline Plaza, following the review, has been arranged by Book Review Chairman Mrs. H. C. Kincaid. Reservations may be made at the review.

Music Show Planned At Sisterhood Lunch

A musical program will be the featured entertainment at the Beth Israel-Judea Sisterhood Donor Luncheon Oct. 30.

Professional singers Georgia Prugh and Mildred Simon will present a medley of songs. The affair, which benefits the Religious School program, will be at the Fairmont Hotel. Reservations are still available at a donation of $15 and may be secured by calling Mrs. Abraham Titen at 333-4064 or Mrs. Ben Rosen at 681-2886.

STARTING OCT. 21 at 10 a.m., Adult Education classes will be held in Fellowship Hall at the Temple on Brotherhood Way. Jerry Molton, Adult Education Program Chairman, announced the return engagement of Dr. Alice Naumoff as the guest lecturer for the series. The theme of the program will be "Great Jewish Affirmations."

There will be no charge for these programs which will continue through Nov. 25.

THE BROTHERHOOD of Beth Israel-Judea will hold a Parent-Child Night Dinner Oct. 21 at 6:30 p.m.

Entertainment will be in the form of an exciting live demonstration of Kung-Fu.

Canin to Solo With Symphony

The Peninsula Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Aaron Sten, will feature the San Francisco Symphony's talented Concertmaster, Stuart Canin in their opening concert of the 1973-74 season. Performances will be given on Friday evening, October 26, at San Mateo High School, Delaware near Bellevue, and on Saturday evening, October 27, at De Anza's Flint Center in Cupertino. Both performances are at 8:30 p.m.

The Mendelssohn Violin Concerto in E minor is the main work of the evening and will feature Stuart Canin as soloist. Mr. Canin became concertmaster of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra at the beginning of the 1970-71 season. Prior to coming to San Francisco he was concertmaster and violin soloist with the Chamber Symphony of Philadelphia, under Anshel Brusilow.

Born in New York City, Canin was the child prodigy violinist around whom the famous Jack Benny-Fred Allen radio feud centered in the late 1930's. During World War II he performed for American troops and was honored with a command performance before Harry Truman, Winston Churchill, and Joseph Stalin when the three international leaders were engaged in peace conferences at Potsdam.

He completed his violin studies after the war at Juilliard where famed Ivan Galamian was his tutor. In 1959 he won first prize at the Paganini International Violin Competition, surpassing 25 other violinists from ten different countries. One year later, Canin was honored by his native city with its highest cultural award, the Handel Medal, in recognition of his musical achievements.

He has been soloist with major European and American orchestras and has concertised extensively throughout the two continents. He was Professor of Violin at Oberlin Conservatory of Music and presently teaches at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music. During this past summer Mr. Canin toured Europe and the Soviet Union with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra and was featured in Leonard Bernstein's Serenade for Violin and Orchestra.

GIRL SCOUTING

BLESS MAN, the lavish display of the world's six major religions, a production of the "Creative Initiative Foundation" scheduled for December in San Francisco, will highlight the Oct. 18 luncheon of the Daly City Girl Scout Association.

Mesdames Caroline Futrell and Jean Goodsell will coordinate the potluck luncheon following the "Bless Man" presentation and the business meeting scheduled for 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Hope Lutheran Church, 55 San Fernando Way, Daly City.

NEW LEADERS need only bring place settings as the experienced leaders and service team members will provide the food for the luncheon. Mrs. Margaret Connolly, Daly City Association chairwoman, will preside over the meeting.

Sandy Beckers of the foundation, with three training representatives will present the slide show introduction to "Bless Man," suggested as an alternative holiday outing for Scout troops.

WING SCOUTS will begin training Oct. 18 at the United Airlines Center in San Bruno. Wing Scouts are members of Senior Girl Scout troops, who have an interest in air travel.

JUNIOR JAMBOREE, an opportunity for inexperienced Junior Girl Scout leaders to camp with their troops with Association and Senior Girl Scout supervision, is scheduled Oct. 20 from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the Willow Shelter at Junipero Serra Park.

MRS. CAROL KLATT will direct the jamboree with the help of the Daly City Camp Committee, coordinated by Mrs. Mary Ann Dale. The "Willow Shelter" will be the site of the encampment.

The one-day outing is designed for girls and adults to learn easy steps in adapting the Girl Scout program to the out-of-doors, and is one answer to the goal of helping Scouts feel secure in settings different from their school or home.

JUNIOR TROOP 2855, meeting at Daniel Webster School, recently provided the opening colors ceremony at Mervyn's Department Store in the Serramonte Shopping Center.

The large American flag was presented by Scouts Maryann Martinez, Francis Castellon, Dorothy McReynolds, Virginia Chiappari, Dawn Hertogs and Ane McReynolds.

CALLER for the ceremonies was Christy Dowd as Elizabeth Christen and Judy Bautista held the smaller American flag and Diane Christen and Cristi Catelli held the California state flag.

Mrs. Annette Chiappari is the leader of this troop which welcomed the new store to Daly City. The new Mervyn's has a Girl Scout equipment and uniform department.

DC Camp Fire Girls Plan Learning Class

Daly City Camp Fire Girls will join together at Willow Shelter in Junipero Serra Park Oct. 27 for a day of fun and learning experiences.

Groups of all ages from Blue Bird to Horizon Club will be involved. Several classes have been scheduled during the day that girls may attend if they are in need of learning that particular skill.

Purpose of the day is to give girls a chance to learn outdoor skills early in the year so they can incorporate them into their year's activity, without each group having to obtain a specialist. Songs will also be taught from Blue Bird level on up to ceremonial songs for the older girls.

Each leader will have a copy of the day's schedule, and her girls can decide what they want to participte in. When they are not attending classes they may hike on their own, play games or cook lunch.

Some of the activities planned are: a get acquainted nature hike to acquaint girls with poison oak and various other plants; a flag ceremony showing girls how to fold a flag and how to conduct a flag ceremony at their schools.

A compass class will be given, and girls can learn how to follow a compass and play various compass games.

Useful types of knots will be demonstrated.

More information can be obtained from Ruth Goan, area service team chairman.

Dean Borsch Speech Slated

St. Martin's Episcopal Church in Daly City will have as a speaker in the Adult Education group at 9:15 a.m. Oct. 21, Dean Frederick Borsch of the Church Divinity School of the Pacific, Berkeley.

Dean Borsch will also preach at the 10:15 a.m. service that morning. The church is located at 777 Southgate Ave.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD ★ JOHNSON

Hungry Tiger Is Sea Food Haven Thursday

To insure the authenticity of the classic New England clambake featured every Thursday night at the Hungry Tiger restaurant in San Mateo, Chief chef David May, who is also bakemaster, supervises the preparation of the bakes, which he has researched extensively. The preparation of the bakes in the Hungry Tiger's kitchen, and the serving of them in its banquet facility, will be the only deviation from the pattern of the old fashioned New England clambakes, which were prepared in open pits and served out-of-doors. In the tradition of the New England clambake, the Hungry Tiger's will feature clam chowder, Maine lobster, chicken, corn on the cob, potatoes, etc., all the beer you can drink, and buckets of steamed Ipswich. "It will be a meal people will never forget," May says. Because preparations for serving only 60 persons will be made, reservations are a must . . . The new Lehr's Greenhouse Restaurant and Florist, just a few short blocks from Union Square, is one of downtown San Francisco's most popular luncheon spots. Beautiful flowers in bloom form a breathtaking setting for the enjoyment of superb continental dishes like Crepes a la Reine, which translates as tender crepes stuffed with chicken and mushrooms in Mornay sauce.

Down Under Prices Fit Family Budget

It never costs a bundle to dine at the Down Under on Taylor Street. Management has geared the entire operation to real attractive prices both during the luncheon and dinner hours. Perhaps that's just one of the many reasons business is brisk. Whether you go for their famous rack 'o' lamb, poultry, fish, ham steak or salsbury, plus the do-it-yourself salad bar, your wallet takes on a big smile . . . An unexpected guest at the Hilton Inn last week was Frank Sinatra Jr. en route to Las Vegas for a nightclub engagement. Young Sinatra Jr. surprised the evening staff when he checked in late Monday night. Before leaving in the morning he had an early breakfast and signed a few autographs in the Garden Coffee Shop . . . There's more to dining at Bruno's than the menu suggests. A veritable show is tossed in. From Chef John right down the line the boys really put on a show delighting luncheon and dinner guests. Italian dialogue, flaming dishes, pots, caldrons and pans on the go — all the time with plenty of girations on the move. Quite a show and it's a daily affair. One visit tells the story.

Vince's Luncheon List Changed Daily

Luncheon Specials, with entrees changed daily (Monday through Friday) are featured from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Vince's Italian and Seafood restaurant. Corned Beef and Cabbage is our Thursday favorite. For fresh seafood to take home, visit Vince's Seafood Depot next door . . . Dancing and live entertainment is again being featured in the lively Flight Time Lounge of Airport Plaza Hotel, Millbrae. Currently providing the dance music on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights is Dynaflow . . . Steaks Unique has an advertisement in today's Bright Lights which will bring you a genuine savings when ordering Steak & Spaghetti Special. Clip the ad and present it at Steaks Unique, located on the lower level of the Tanforan Park Shopping, along with the other Garden restaurants, any day of the week after 3 p.m. With the coupon, the price for the special dinner (Top Sirloin, spaghetti with "Old Country" meat sauce and garlic bread) is only $1.99. This special is valid through November 30 . . . Is returns to the Whiskey Hill in downtown Burlingame, where owner Pete Brallier is busy overseeing the remodeling project which includes the serving of food. Sunday night's concert is by the Garcia Brothers.

Royal Coach Offers "Beefeater's Dream"

The new dinner menu in the Coach and Horses dining room at the Royal Coach Motor Hotel, San Mateo, is a "Beefeater's Dream," with Roast Prime Rib of Beef being one of the star attractions. Served regular or English cut, rare, medium or well, this juicy item is priced at $6.85. Other entrees include several cuts of steak, steak and lobster, and seafood, such as Poached King Salmon . . . 49er lobster, and seafood, such as Poached King Salmon . . . Pizza n' pipes are a nightly feature at Cap'n Galley in downtown Redwood City. Besides a wide selection of pizza and sandwiches, a mighty Wurlitzer theater pipe organ is presided over by four talented organists. It's a musical experience to watch and listen while munching. Pizzo to go, also. . . . Nick Sbarra, co-owner of the New Southern restaurant, has been around entertainers most of his life. So he knows what he's talking about when he sings the praises of Wende Wendell, the talented organist who entertains in the lounge on Friday and Saturday nights.

Shirt Tail for Food And Entertainment

Birthday or anniversary up? Try the beautiful Shirt Tail in Palo Alto. Manager Durby Adkins will see that your party is one to remember. Entertainment on the piano is a nightly feature, with Dodd Baker providing easy-on-the ear sounds. . . . You can't beat Scotty Campbell's for first-class dining. Steaks and prime rib (as you like it) have always been the specialty of this particularly favored Redwood City restaurant. Diners have a choice from the Hearth, Oven, and Skillet, as well as the charcoal broiler. If you have something special to celebrate, Scotty Campbell's has three dining areas which can accommodate small gatherings. Sunday night is really becoming celebrity night here. Vivian Duncan of the famous theatrical Duncan Sisters, who started in show business in 1917, her husband F. Herman, and close friend Dick Moore of San Mateo were recent dinner guests. . . . Mario Tapia Ponce, Consul General of Mexico, and his beauteous wife hosted a gourmet dinner party for visiting Mexican dignitaries in the elegant Wellington Room of Phil Lehr's Steakery, in downtown San Francisco.

PIANO ARTISTRY — Dodd Baker, who many critics consider to be in a class by himself, displays exceptional musical artistry nightly, Tuesdays through Saturdays, in the comfortable lounge of Adrian Stickney's Shirt Tail restaurant in Palo Alto. Dodd's genius is not confined to the keyboard, as he even designed the unique sound system which surrounds his guests at the piano bar.

Headliners Favor Finocchio's Show

Carroll Channing, star of the musical "Lorelei," and a group of friends showed up for a late show at Finocchio's and applauded enthusiastically after each performance. Finocchio star Pat Montclair, who caught the eyes of the judges at the "Lorelei lookalike" contest recently, was complimented by the visit. After a tremendous round of applause for Montclair's interpretation of Mae West, Miss Channing signed autographs in the lobby of the Broadway club . . . Are you a dessert fancier? Frank and Fannie Torres offer an unusual selection of the "sweettooth" delights. Among the more special are French Pan Cake Confiture, Baked Alaska (for two), Zabaione (for two), Rum Omelette and Banana Fritters. Papas Rellenas, served with green salad, is one of the featured Peruvian specialties for which this likable pair are so famous. Dinners are deluxe or a la carte . . . The Combination Salad featured at Enrico Romano's Italian and pizza restaurant, in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, is a meal in itself. Served with anchovies, peppers, tomatoes, olives, the salads are seasoned with choice of Thousand Island, Italian Dressing. The many combinations of pizza (small, medium, large) are prepared to eat in or to go. The Chef's Special with linguica and mushrooms is absolutely great!

Start A "Winner" Park Avenue Tours

Drive to Lake Tahoe (South Shore) and collect $10 for your effort. You start out a "winner" even before you enjoy entertainment "The Nevada Way." All this is made possible at Park Avenue Tours, where drive-up packages, with generous refunds, can be arranged for any day of the week. Both one-night and two-night packages are available. In addition, Park Avenue Tours features Overnighters, via Greyhound Bus, with accommodations in a deluxe motel. For further information, contact your nearest Park Avenue Tours office (the number to call on the Peninsula is 345-0488) . . . It isn't unusual for guests dining in one of Nick Gust's three closely-located Rockaway Beach restaurants (Nick's, The Moonraker, and Captain Charles Seafood Restaurant) to inspect the action in all three. Although serving entirely different cuisine and featuring individual decor, all three restaurants reflect the same genial atmosphere of the management and a fantastic view of Pacifica's rolling surf from picture windows. In the evening, powerful floodlights make dining here a romantic experience. Literally thousands of tourists flock to this oceanside mecca every year. Something else for your consideration: Nick's Seaside Motel offers relaxed vacation living right on the shores of Rockaway Beach.

Villa Hotel Sets Resort Hotel Pace

When you schedule a function in the traditional surroundings of the Villa Hotel, a resort-like hotel in San Mateo, top quality and service is your "reward." The Villa Hotel is setting the pace by thinking ahead to bring you most of the things you won't even expect to find at your disposal for months hence. For example, computer reservations, a space-age computerized innovation, has done nothing to disturb the distinctive charm of the hotel. The new menu introduced in the Villa Coffee House has produced zooming business results. For moments of unwinding, drop into the Villa Lounge, where the Charlie Blackwell Trio blends tunes of your liking for listening and dancing, from 9 p.m. . . . There's a Steak Special at Diamond Lil's every Monday night which is drawing big. It's a five-ounce ribeye steak dinner (includes baked potato, salad and French bread) tabbed at only $1.99. See your steak broiled right before your eyes on the revolving broiler, a one of a kind in the Bay Area . . . Master Chef Paolo Bermani prepares 30 different kinds of Veal Scaloppine for diners at Doros in San Francisco. Doros head man, Don Dianda, believes this is a record and one that gives Veal Scaloppine lovers much satisfaction.

Daly City Girls Honored for Heroism

They didn't look like heroines standing with heads bowed, smiling shyly, in front of the Daly City city council last Tuesday night as members of the council showered them with praise.

But Cristina Flores and Gabriella Zaitz did indeed perform an act that possibly saved a school building from destruction, thereby qualifying them for the title.

Councilman Bernard Lycett told the little girls, ages 6 and 7, there were "few adults who would have done the job that these two children have done."

Throughout Lycett's and councilman Victor Kyriakis' praise, the two girls stood holding hands and smiling. Even when Cristina was told the glass on her framed resolution was broken after being dropped by accident, she smilingly responded "That's okeh."

It was a month ago that the two girls were on their way home from the Our Lady of Mercy School when they saw smoke pouring from a doorway at the Westlake School.

They quickly ran to a nearby street alarm box and pulled the alarm.

The fire department just as quickly put out the fire, which proved to have been set by an arsonist.

Fire Chief Keith Schrock, in a letter to the girls, said "this prompt action enabled the fire department to respond and extinguish the fire before it could do too much damage."

Schrock added: "You . . . are both to be commended for your action. All too often we tend to overlook the good deeds done by people to help their fellow human beings.

"It gives me a great deal of pleasure to thank both of you for the good deed you have done to help the people of Daly City."

Damage to the school building was estimated at $200 and confined to a doorway area, investigators reported.

HEROINES PRAISED — The Daly City City Council this week unanimously passed a resolution citing Cristina Flores (right) and Gabriella Zaitz for their action in turning in a fire alarm at the Westlake School last month. Their prompt action is credited with holding down damage at the school and possibly preventing injury. Presenting the resolutions were (left) councilman Victor Kyriakis and (right) councilman Bernard J. Lycett.

Dangerous D.C. Street Debated

from the shopping center and apartment complex areas.

So bad has the situation become, one man recounted, that he has experienced the destruction of two of his own automobiles parked in front of his home.

Another homeowner said his neighbor was almost killed when a "hurrying driver" failed to stop as she tried to turn into her driveway, slamming the car with such force that it ended up in his driveway.

City Treasurer Anthony Zidich told of aiding persons injured in several car accidents in front of his South Maytair Avenue home.

The tales of accidents, near accidents, and potential crashes were told to the council by both residents of the South Maytair and other nearby streets.

Although many accidents occur at night, many have been experienced during daylight hours, it was explained.

Part of the problem is street lighting along the heavily traveled road. A section of the street – between Fairway and Poncetta – has been provided with the new incandescent light poles.

However, the remaining section of the street still has the older fixtures which do not provide sufficient lighting, residents say.

Not only would new lighting provide traffic safety, Giannini said, it would insure the safety of pedestrians along the dark street from both passing cars and muggers – especially with the new Bay Area Rapid Transit station opening on Knowles Avenue within a month.

The opening of BART is expected to increase foot traffic along the street, it was pointed out.

City Mgr. David Rowe said he agreed with residents that South Maytair was one of the worst lit streets in the city and estimated new lighting could be installed before the year end.

Rowe said he would also push a concentrated traffic control program, pointing out that police had been recently patrolling the area with radar units.

The speed limit signs along the street are partially hidden from motorists' view by pine tres growing along both sides of Alemany. These trees, which provide a visual and sound barrier to traffic passing on Alemany Boulevard, are starting to push up the road pavement in some sections, creating a hazard to cars.

The council and staff said immediate measures would be taken to cut tree roots in the area and repair the road surface, while pushing for installation of the new street lights.

MISSING — Janie Thomas, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thomas, 402 Oriente St., Daly City, has been missing since Oct. 5. She was last seen in class at Serramonte High School, where she is a sophomore. Her parents have issued an appeal this week to anyone with information on her whereabouts to call Daly City Police, 992-1225.

Fall Hurts S.S.F. Girl

A 17-year-old South San Francisco girl was reported in fair condition yesterday with head injuries in the intensive care unit of Peninsula Hospital after falling from a one-story window Monday in San Bruno.

Rushed to the hospital at about 3:30 p.m. was Debra McKenna, of 3856 Fairfax St.

Police said the girl and her boyfriend, Jeffry Hull, of 204 Mansfield Drive, South San Francisco, were visiting at 855 Huntington Ave., San Bruno, where the incident occurred.

According to police, Miss McKenna was leaning out the window looking for a friend when she apparently lost her balance, falling and striking the sidewalk one floor below.

Free umbrellas to prove we're more than just a fair weather bank.

You can win this top quality transparent bubbletype ladies' umbrella with slide-o-matic grip.

Or you might win this handsome durable grip men's umbrella with matching black cover, telescopic to fit your briefcase.

From October 15 thru 19, we're giving away 100 umbrellas in our branch. That's 50 for the men, and 50 for the ladies. It's just one way to let you know we want and appreciate your business all year long, not just when things are going great.

Come in between October 15 and 19, and register for a free drawing. When you register for the drawing you'll see a display of umbrellas specially decorated by children from our neighborhood.

Everyone will be a winner! You'll receive a free plastic rain bonnet that fits in any pocket, just for stopping in. We'll even give you a piece of sponge cake.

Umbrella winners will be determined by a drawing and posted in the branch on Monday, October 22. All prizes must be claimed by close of business, Friday, October 26.

The moral of our story is obvious.

On School Development

Laguna Trustees Clash

A plan to landscape or develop lawns and playgrounds at six different schools in Pacifica foundered last Thursday night.

Laguna Salada School trustees clashed over the problems of maintenance costs and priorities.

Laguna Salada School District, one of the poorest in the county, has many school grounds largely undeveloped.

Board Chairman Wilbur C. Frye noted that every acre that is turfed costs $500 a year to maintain.

"And we already have about 100 acres turfed," he added.

"The city seems to be backing us into the corner where we appear to be the bad guys," complained Trustee Dale Buettgenback. "Somewhere along the line, we have to decide where to put our money in the classrooms or outside the classrooms."

Referring to the fact that park-poor Pacifica uses schools for most of its recreational activity, Buettgenback complained that the school district is subsidizing an activity that is not educational.

Only Trustee Lee Riewerts disagreed:

"I would look at pride in the community and improvement of our environment as a high priority."

"If every child had adequate textbooks," Buettgenback retorted. ". . . I nknow schools that don't have textbooks to go around."

He added that "if someone turfed all our grounds free, we could not maintain them."

Parents disagreed with priorities on improvement that the city's Capital Improvements Committee had recommended. One mother expressed surprise that the city councilmen apparently did not talk to school trustees. School Supt. James Brien said that some of the city committee's high priorities were not so high with the school district.

The committee recommended four projects for construction during the current fiscal year, Brien told the school board.

$2.5 Million Goes For Park Program

San Mateo County is scheduled to spend more than $2.5 million by June 30, 1974, as its parks and open space acquisition and development program gets into full swing, County Parks and Recreation Director John T. Brook reported to the Board of Supervisors Oct. 9.

The largest single allocation of funds — $1,070,248—is scheduled for acquisition of the property for the proposed park and open space area on San Bruno Mountain.

In all, Brook said, a total of $1,891,248 is scheduled for land acquisition, with $697,000 allocated for planning and development.

The information was submitted by Brook in compliance with a recent request of the Board of Supervisors for periodic reports on the park and open space program approved by voters in June 1972. The program provides that the county allocate the equivalent of 10 cents on the tax rate each year for 10 years for park and open space acquisition and development.

Acquisition allocations planned for the current fiscal year:

San Pedro Valley Park, $70,000; Mid-coast beaches, $203,000; South coast beaches, $7,000; Marine reserve, $10,000; Sandstone caves, $61,000; San Bruno Mountain, $1,070,248; Pescadero Creek Park, $170,000.

Scheduled planning and development expenditures:

San Pedro Valley Park, $50,000; Coyote Point Park, $528,000; Pescadero Creek Park, $77,000; Gazos Creek fishing access, $9,000; Parks and Recreation planning and administration, $33,000.

McCormick To Speak at Guild Meeting

Rev. Maurice M. McCormick, Newman Club Chaplain at California State University, San Francisco, will be the featured speaker at an evening of spiritual renewal planned by the Holy Angels' Women's Guild Oct. 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the parish hall.

Father McCormick has had four years pastoral experience with numerous students involved in the charismatic renewal movement and for two years he has personally participated in the so-called pentecostal prayer meetings. He is presently helping direct the formation of a prayer-community at San Francisco State University.

All those interested in learning more about this movement or sharing thoughts and experiences reflecting the direction and potential of this modern pentecostal experience are invited to attend.

Coffee and refreshments will be served.

Health Officers Place Emphasis On Vaccination

In an effort to reduce the threat of childhood diseases, October has been designated national Immunization Action Month according to the Bay Area Health Association.

During the month, parents are urged to check the vaccination records of their children and take unvaccinated youngsters to their doctor or local health department.

BAHA health officers recommend that children be vaccinated against the following diseases: polio, measles, German measles (rubella), diphtheria, whooping cough (pertussis) and tetanus.

Health officers also urge parents not to wait until their children are school age to have them vaccinated.

Parish Social Slated Oct. 27

The annual parish social, sponsored by the Holy Angels Women's Guild will be Oct. 27, at the Italian American Social Club, 25 Russia St., San Francisco.

According to Mrs. Conrad Reich, chairman of the event, tickets are now on sale for $12 per person or $24 for two. The price of the dinner includes cocktails before dinner and three hours of dancing and cocktails following dinner.

All parishioners, their friends and families are invited.

For tickets or further information, call Mrs. Reich at 756-2850 or Mrs. John Lagomarsino at 992-1475.

Park Cements Community Cooperation

A group of neighbors who got together to build a park found that they wound up with something even more valuable. They had found a new and heightened sense of neighborhood.

The miracle happened in the Pacific Highlands section of Pacifica. It culminated last Saturday at 1 p.m., when the neighbors had their final get-together to dedicate the park they had worked on for weeks.

The Westview Minipark is located on an unused portion of the Westview School, located on Glencourt Way, between Inverness Drive and Skyline Blvd. The modern and unusual is wooden equipment already attracting a steady stream of children — of all ages.

There had been agitation for a neighborhood park ever since the creation of the tract, 18 years ago. It was finally the availability of funds from the federal Housing and Urban Development (HUD) administration that started things moving.

It all started on Jan. 9 when Dick Burton, director of the city's Park, Beaches and Recreation Department, and John Hoffman, park superintendent, met with six neighborhood residents and discussed what resources were available. With them was famed playground architect, Jay Beckwith.

The neighbors learned that with a $4,500 budget, HUD would pay half. The city would pay a third, if the neighbors would pay a sixth—$750—which they could give in the form of labor.

The following week, the same neighbors held a follow-up meeting in one of their homes — and counted 13 persons present, all ready to start work. Beckwith showed them possible plans, and told them what would be expected of them. Most important, each person told what kind of equipment he would like to have on the future playground, which came within the budget.

A group of the residents took a Sunday tour with Beckwith and looked at other playgrounds he had designed. They drove around to Golden Gate Park, McHenry School on Castro St. in San Francisco, and to Oakland's Lake Merritt.

A good deal of time was consumed in governmental red tape—approvals by the Laguna Salada School District, City Council and Planning Commission, and various trips to get the HUD money unfrozen.

Finally, came the day of the groundbreaking in mid-July. Then followed what became a new way of life for many residents of the area. Every Saturday and Sunday, the men would come with their tools and put up equipment under Beckwith's direction. The women made lunch and refreshments, using their favorite casseroles and sandwich recipes.

As the park took shape, community excitement grew. Some of the women begged to be shown how to operate tools, such as drills, so that they could keep the work going during weekdays. Many of those who worked on the project had no children.

The central piece of equipment is an eight-foot high multi-level platform which doubles as a fort. Children can get to it by steps, ladders, or telephone pole spikes. They can leave it by a slide or a firemen's pole.

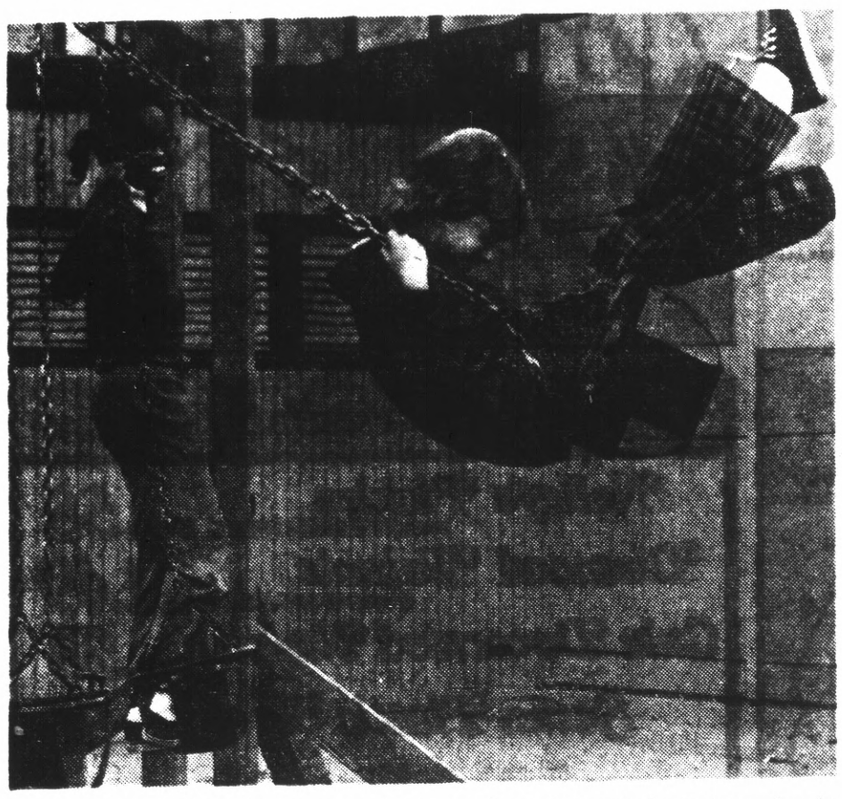
Other equipment includes a tire bridge, monkey bars, tot swings, a barrel tunnel and a maze. A few neighbors went to Woodside where a freeway project was recently completed and obtained two worn-out earth-mover tires which they are using for sandboxes. The barrel tunnel was built out of 55-gallon drums.

In addition, a table and bench were built for mothers to relax at while watching their children.

As it is, children can't seem to stay off the equipment. According to Darrel Greer, who was chairman of Saturday's dedication, children who formerly played in the street are playing in that playground, and parents now know where to find them. Children from Westview School head for the park during lunch and recess. Even some teachers and a custodian have been seen playing on the equipment.

Among those who took part in Saturday's dedication were Mayor Aubrey Lumley III, Beckwith, Police Chief Mel Nelson and representatives of the school district, who lent the land. The ladies topped it off, as they have been doing since construction started, with homemade refreshments.

Already, the playground is making Pacifica renown. Beckwith has a current exhibit at the de Young Museum in San Francisco, showing how a minipark can be built. The Westview Minipark is used as a prime example in the exhibit, made up of photographs, models and slides.



MINIPARK — Ester Thomas, in background, and Sheryl Jones have fun in Westview Park.

School Night Set Oct. 18

Terra Nova High School will hold its annual "Back To School Night" Oct. 18.

Parents will meet with the administration and teachers in the cafetorium from 7:15 to 8:05 p.m. in a general P-TA meeting. The faculty will also be introduced at that time.

The procedure will be as last year. After the meeting parents will go to their child's classrooms to meet with teachers in the order of the student's daily class schedule.

Le Paeini Coaching

WATCHING THAT wildly mixed conglomeration of baseball and football games on the weekend when the major league baseball play-offs ran into college and pro football, it suddenly occurred to us that coaching in football is more important than it is in baseball — or at least tougher.

By that we mean, if nothing else, the pressure is much more intense, primarily because of the shorter schedule. Simply put, a baseball manager has 162 games to go down the drain or be successful, while a pro football coach has only 14. Each game means more, the preparation is more intense because in football a coach meets each opponent only once or twice (unless he gets into play-offs), rather than a dozen or more times as in baseball, because there are more players to handle and juggle, and because — even though they're pros and shouldn't need it — a football coach must get his players "up" for every game.

BECAUSE they play virtually every day, baseball managers don't have to worry about getting anybody up for a regular season game; they shouldn't. If a baseball player got as emotionally high for each game as a football player must, he would be mentally worn to a frazzle within a month. If anything, baseball managers must think of ways to keep their players down on the emotional scale. Edginess can work to advantage in football, because it can be released in an explosive block or tackle. In baseball, that same intensity can give a shortstop iron hands on a simple ground ball, can tie up a hitter when he tries to kill a change-up out over the plate.

THE BASEBALL PLAY-OFFS also convinced us that the Giants have one solid starter and one good left-handed relief pitcher away from being better than any of the teams that were in the play-offs. And that, despite his late season slump, Bobby Bonds may still have been the National League's Most Valuable Player; that is if the definition of a Most Valuable Player would be the individual who was least expendable to his team, rather than the individual who was the most outstanding player on a winning team. It's hard to forget that Bonds, besides his outstanding defense and base stealing, accounted for a combined 227 runs (96 RBI's, 131 scored), easily the highest combination scoring total in major league baseball.

Other thoughts on the play-offs: We don't think Pete Rose showed much class in brawling with Bud Harrelson, whom he outweighs by about 40 pounds. But on the othe.... hand, we think Johnny Bench showed a lot of class in pulling Rose out of the fray . . . with a little help from 280-pound coach Ted Kluszewski. And the Met fans showed much less class than Rose when they bombarded him with bottles and garbage when he took his position in left field, and when they mobbed everybody after the deciding game. That indicates the kind of mentality those fans have; risking a forfeit when their own team holds a 9-2, and then risking injuring their own players for the World Series.

BUT THEN, LIFE is hard in New York, and pleasure to a lot of sports fans there is getting involved in a riot.

For the First Time Ever

El Camino Downs South City

By JERRY LITTRELL
Post Correspondent

Having ended the drought last year, the El Camino Colts were able to read a fruitful harvest this season with their first-ever North Peninsula League victory over cross-town rival South San Francisco Friday night on Clifford Field.

The upset victory threw the NPL race into a tizzy with El Camino and Westmoor, two unbeatens, taking the inside track to this season's title.

Since 1962, when league play began, Camino had never even scored a touchdown against the Warriors until last season. Even then the first six-pointer in over a decade wasn't enough as the Warriors won.

But the Colts, healthy for the first time of the year, played near flawless football and ran right at what used to be the Warrior forte, the defensive front line, in taking a 13-7 win before an arena-ringing crowd.

The Colt defense, meanwhile, throttled the Warrior attack to a season-low 103 yards on the ground and it was that same defense that set up one touchdown and scored the winning one all in the first period.

A jarring tackle on the Warriors' first series forced a fumble which Colt John Furr recovered on the EC 49. Eleven straight running plays, all designed to exploit the nterior ior of the Warrior defensive line, full back Phil Marty, making his first appearance of the season after a leg injury, slammed over from the three.

A key Warrior mistake on the ensuing series then added the clincher.

Forced to punt from their own 19, a bad snap from center sailed clear over punter Don Tylenda's head and when the ball finally bounded into the end zone Camino's Gary Ottonello fell on it for the second quick score. It was the Colts' last score, but the defense held the Warriors for the next 38 minutes.

The Warriors came back on their next series to punch the ball 66 yards upfield in 13 plays, with tailback John McKeon going over from the two. But the Warriors were unable to supply enough pass protection on some occasions and fumbled away two more scoring chances early in the second half.

Five times in all the Warriors handed the ball to Camino — four on interceptions and one interception and that helped decide the cause. Except for a harmless interception early in the game Camino played steadily enough to keep the ball away from the Warriors.

Another redeeming factor was the lack of penalties. Camino had just one minor and SSF had two minors in a hard-fought and, for the Colts, a long-awaited, satisfying victory.

Bulldog Harriers Win

Unbeaten in league duals since 1969, College of San Mateo's cross-country team got win No. 21 in the Oct. 10, 1973 Golden Gate Conference opener, edging Laney, 28-31, in a center meet at Golden Gate Park.

With reigning Northern California champ Jim Van Dine sitting out the season with an injury, CSM is relying upon depth rather than a strong individual this year. Laney took the first two spots yesterday and placed state 880 champ James Robinson fifth.

But the Bulldogs took everything else of the first dozen places and got the victory. Larry Dieu was the top Matean in third place at 21:58, just two seconds behind Laney vet Melvin Hayes. Eagle Bob Immethum won the 4.1 mile race in 21:46 and Bulldog Ed Barney was fourth in 22:11.

In other competition during yesterday's center meet, league favorite San Jose CC measured Diablo Valley 24-35, and Chabot beat host CCSF, 17-44.

CSM hosts 30 teams from throughout Northern California in the season's biggest invitational, Saturday at noon on the Crystal Springs (Hallmark Homes) course in Belmont.

Best Effort This Year

CSM Gridders Throttle DVC

By FRED BAER
Post Correspondent

With utter disdain for preseason prognosticators who figured the power lay elsewhere, College of San Mateo (3-2) and Laney (2-3) will pit their 2-0 Golden Gate Conference records for the lead Saturday night in Oakland.

San Mateo is fresh from a ball-control defensive classic 21-0 upset of Diablo Valley Saturday evening. DVC had vaulted into the No. 9 spot in state ratings last week following a league opening upending of San Jose, while Laney was toppling Chabot.

A fired-up CSM team played by far its best 60 minutes of football this year in shutting out the Vikings. Diablo netted a minus two yards rushing and total offense of 44 yards — an average of less than a yard for each of 45 plays — and only two first downs per half.

Meanwhile frosh quarterback John Salomon out of Terra Nova guided the Bulldogs through 69 running plays for 258 yards. CSM frosh tailback Greg Smith from Balboa High tallied back-to-back touchdowns in the second quarter for the only points San Mateo needed.

Smith's four-yard slant over right tackle capped a 69-yard, 15 play drive with 2:05 left in the half. Two plays later linebacker Paul Brandow recovered a Viking fumble on the DVC 21 and a three-play series by Smith produced another score.

The 5-9, 170 pound tailback had a pair of three-yard rushes, then caught a 15-yard pass from Salomon for the TD. He caught the ball on the five near the right sideline and bounced off a Viking defender into the end zone.

CSM coach Steve Shafer exhibited the same elation as his players following the triumph. "It was pretty obvious how sincere everyone was," said the rookie head coach. "We played with some emotion and really came together as a group. We had great offensive line blocking. You don't run a control offense that way without it."

Salomon became the first Bulldog quarterback to go all the way this season.

"We made a decision he was No. 1" said Shafer, "and stayed with him. We were running well so there wasn't much need to pass — but when we did need to throw we could and did."

Salomon completed 5 of 9 passes for 78 yards and completed an 80-yard fourth quarter drive with a 1-yard TD sneak. But there were some shakey moments early in the game.

The Bulldogs had marched 48 yards to DVC's 24 when a bad pitch resulted in the only turnover given up by San Mateo. And Salomon's first two pass attempts fell incomplete, stymieing drives.

But Diablo proceeded to get nowhere. Following the Vikes' initial first down of the game, in the second quarter, Roger Varwig created a fumble by taking the ball out of the hands of Viking QB Don Miller. DVC's other first down came as the half ended.

Only once in the second half did Diablo get more than five plays in a series as CSM continued to control the ball.

Only notable injury by the Bulldogs was a hip-pointer to tailback Dick Bass, who has been CSM's leading rusher on the season. However Smith took control with 83 yards on 18 carries and Charles Cheadle added 63 in 14 among eight Matean ball carriers.

CSM Water Polo Team Wins Two

College of San Mateo's water polo team came up with a rare doubleheader win Monday at Laney College in Oakland.

The Bulldogs took a GGC conference match with Laney 20-2 using almost all reserves and then downed the UC Berkeley Frosh 11-6.

The Laney win was the first GGC match for CSM and now gives them 20 straight conference wins. They had 27 in a row two years ago which was stopped by Diablo Valley College. DVC comes up next week for CSM this year.

John Holzwarth led the CSM win over the Eagles with three goals, as 12 different Bulldogs scored.

In the match with the baby Bears, the Dogs found themselves down 5-2 at the end of one period and managed to tie it up 6-6 going into the final period where they outscored the hosts 5-0. Coach Rich Donner said, "We just kept coming back and they got into foul trouble at the end. They fouled out a lot of people."

Mark Pecar led the win over the Bears with five goals and Jeff Citron added two. The Bulldogs may have lost their second leading scorer Dan Zabel for an undetermined period of time with back problems though. He played in the Laney match but was held out of the UC game.

Pads Rout Riordan At Crystal

Serra High's cross-country team hasn't exactly been a West Catholic Athletic League powerhouse the last few years, but the Padres have certainly turned things around this season.

Serra kept up its undefeated record Oct. 9 with a 21-36 win over Riorda at Crystal Springs course in Belmont, and set up a showdown with likewise unbeaten WCAL and CCS favorite St. Francis Tuesday on the same layout.

The Padres, now 11-0 overall and 5-0 in league, had senior Steve Palladino break a school record under soggy conditions by 11 seconds with a 16:25 time on the three-mile course. He was second.

Freshman Stan Ross, the best first-year runner in the area along with Burlingame's Mike Daniels (Ross has beaten Daniels), set a Padre frosh mark with a 16:52 clocking good for sixth place.

SSF Harriers Take a Pair

South San Francisco High opened its North Peninsula League cross-country season last Thursday with wins over El Camino and Half Moon Bay in a double dual meet.

Half Moon Bay's Hill took first on the 2.5-mile course in 13:14, but SSF took six of the next nine spots, paced by Sam Goss (13:22), who battled illness to finish the race.

In the dual meet's other decision Half Moon Bay downed El Camino; El Camino competed with an incomplete team.

Terra Nova Students Want Courts; Construction Set

ANNE HILO
Campus Correspondent

Tennis is one sport Terra Novans want. But most students will just have to wait until January, 1974, when construction begins.

Tennis courts have been put into "plan," according to George Hinkle, Terra Nova's assistant vice principal.

"There are going to be four tennis courts made. They will be laid out behind the basketball courts, by the soccer field. Cost of the courts will be about $40-$45,000, to be paid by the Jefferson Union High School District," said Hinkle.

Sharon Sligar, one of Terra Nova's P.E. teachers, has been taking Terra Nova students to Oceana to learn how to play tennis since Oct. 3. She "does it for fun. Hopefully, we'll try to get as many courts as Oceana. I don't think two or three will be enough because it will be crowded. Even Oceana's seven courts are crowded on weekends."

Student comments were:

Laura Del Rosso — "We should have tennis because there's a big boom, and it seems like everyone is playing it nowadays."

Lisa Hackley said, "We should have courts not only because of the game's popularity, but for transportation reasons. It's so hard to try to get to Oceana from where we are."

Ken Phillips added, "I think we should have it because it's over-crowded at Oceana."

Pam Murawski said, "We should have them so that Terra Nova can have a wider range of sports."

Bill Lepeltak, sports editor of the school news magazine, replied, "Oceana's courts are over-crowded, and people don't like to go all the way over there. Terra Nova should have a tennis team."

CSM Poloists Blast CCSF

College of San Mateo's water polo team stretched its Golden Gate Conference record to 2-0 and overall log to 11-2 last week with a 23-5 blasting of visiting City College of San Francisco.

John Holzwarth had five goals and Pat Frost two to pace the Bulldogs, who face Foothill tomorrow (11-1), "the best team we've played so far" in the words of CSM coach Rich Donner.

Ram Harriers Snap String

Westmoor High's cross-country team handed defending North Peninsula League champ Oceana its first NPL dual meet loss in five years last Thursday with a 24-37 victory on the Rams' 2.6 mile course in Daly City.

Both Oceana's Bob Powell and Westmoor's Bob Miller broke the old course record of 13:18 held by Miller. Powell was first in 13:30 and Miller second in 13:39.

That's why Willie Mays is worshipped there, and merely accepted here. When people are down-trodden, when life is miserable for them, they need heroes, they need bigger-than-life figures to idolize, to ease the pain of their own mundane and perhaps painful existence. Thus, the pioneers in the old, Wild West, not knowing baseball players, elevated common but exciting criminals like Billy the Kid and Jesse James to hero status. Heroes are always created out of hard times. And New York is hard times for the common man nowadays. Ironically, it's the Wild West all over again, having made a full turn to settle in the East. Or aren't citizens packing guns and forming vigilante groups in New York City?

When people can walk into sunny backyards and barbeque steak, however, as another alternate to being mugged or staying home cooped up in a two-room apartment for which they might spend half a month's salary, they tend to think more about themselves, and let the "heroes" go their own way.

But on the more mundane aspects of the play-offs, and another thought. If six umpires are deemed necessary for the play-offs, than why shouldn't they be for the regular season, rather than the standard four man umpiring team. Are big league officials saying, by adding two umps during play-offs and World Series, that only four umpires aren't sufficient, that regular season games aren't important, or that the extra two umps are just window dressing, anyway?

Did it strike you, as it struck us, that Jim Palmer looks like movie actor Tony Perkins, who played Jim Piersall in the movies. But Perkins doesn't look like Piersall? And that both Rusty Staub and Wayne Garrett look like prototypes of Huckleberry Finn — a big version and a small version0 (Maybe they could use Staub for long shots and Garrett for close-ups).

WE PROMISED LAST week to give more details on the upcoming Mission High School dinner and dance for all classes, so here they are:

Place will be the University of San Francisco at Golden Gate Ave. and Masonic. Date is Nov. 3. Times, 6:30 social hour, 8:15 dinner, dancing until 1 a.m. (Although we'll bet the social hour starts at about noon at various locations throughout the city, that nobody sits down to dinner until 10:20, and that dancing — some place — lasts until breakfast).

Price is $7 per person, and that includes tax, tip, parking and live music. And oh yes, 75 cents for the booze at the 6:30 no host.

Bobby Garay will provide the music, and Master of Ceremonies will be Russ Coughlin, another Mission grad who is now an ABC Vice President and General Manager of KGO-TV.

Guest of honor will be Ruth Asawa, noted local sculptress who is credited by Mission officials for doing much to kindle a spark of interest in the arts among current Mission students, and also, in the words of the Executive Committee of the alumni, because, "she has aided in re-establishing some of the loyalties, traditions and respect so prevalent in the past history of Mission High School."

Al Nelder, former Mission athletic great, San Francisco Chief Chief of Police and now a candidate for a San Francisco supervisoral seat, will present an award to Ms. Asawa.

Bill Mustanich, former Bear baseball coach and chairman of the Mission High School Alumni, and the man who brainstormed the alumni dinner-dance, says that he will, upon request, make every effort to reserve special tables or sections for groups or classes.

MUSTANICH HIMSELF may be contacted at Mission High School, 701 Frederick St., San Francisco, 94117 (That's the old Poly High building, which Mission is occupying while the REAL Mission High is getting earthquake-proofed) ..... Phone: 731-8100.

Ticket locations are at the current Mission High, at Les Vogel Chevrolet, the Westlake Bowl, the Wishing Well at 7th and Irving in San Francisco, and at the Miraloma Club.

Tickets, incidentally, must be purchased in advance. And Mustanich also requests that any of you Mission grads contact others about the reunion who might not know about it.

The ultimate aim of the dinner is not JUST fun and frivolity, but to secure a modest enough profit to begin an alumni fund to aid needy students by providing for scholarships, financing worthy field trips and buying materials and equipment not provided through regular channels.

If you're wondering what we're doing plugging a dinner-dance for a San Francisco school in a Peninsula sports column, we can easily justify it. One reason is that we've never known anybody from Mission who wasn't an athlete — even if only a poor one. The other reason is that there are easily more former Missionites living on the Peninsula than there are living in San Francisco.

TAG END: Those 49er holding penalties which always seem to occur at the most crucial times indicate to us either sloppy coaching or poor discipline, or both.

Versatility Counts

Jeff Tops Tigers

Versatility was the key for Jefferson's resurging Indians Friday night as they took their first North Peninsula League victory.

Other NPL games saw Westmoor hold off stubborn Serramonte, 14-6, and Oceana rally for a 33-27 win over Half Moon Bay.

Usually a pass-happy team, Jefferson came out determined to set up a running attack against the Terra Nova Tigers and did just that in the 24-13 victory. The Indians ran up 162 yards rushing, came up with almost as much passing and throttled the Tiger offense.

Quarterback Dale Edleman starred for the Indians; he rushed 111 yards in 20 carries and threw for two touchdowns and 157 more yards. The Indians scored on the third play from scrimmage when Edleman hit John Moura with a perfect 63-yard pass.

A fumble on an attempted fair catch on a punt gave Jeff possession again on the next series and the Moura-Edleman combo clicked for a 23-yard score.

Moura caught four passes for 106 yards to lead Jeff's receivers.

Westmoor found Serramonte a surprisingly stiff opponent, and were it not for a key defensive play by the Times' defensive back of the week, sophomore Rick Wyatt, things might have been more difficult for the Rams.

Wyatt picked off a Serramonte aerial and raced 25 yards for the cushion touchdown to help a suddenly lethargic Ram offense. Fullback Dan Tong had scored the first Ram TD on a one-yard plunge. Frank Baston scored Serramonte's long touchdown on a one-yard run.

Serramonte's poor aerial attack (12-31 but at one time 8-27) was no help to the Regents, who have now lost two games by 12 points.

Half Moon Bay had slammed Oceana down for nearly three quarters and led 27-6 before Oceana started a late-game rally that led to the 33-27 win. Quarterback Tony Scoma hit on a 25-yard pass to end Brian Picollotti with 2:37 left to get the go-ahead score.

Oceana's Calvin Ellison scored three touchdowns on runs of 55 and 8 yards and a 28-yard pass from Scoma to head the Shark offense.

STAY IN WCAL RACE

Pads Pound Riordan

By STEVE JOHNSON
Post Correspondent

Serra High's football team launched "Operation Eliminate or be Eliminated" with a bang Saturday night.

The Padres, in the first of five straight must-win games, smashed Riordan, 41-16, at San Francisco's Kezar Stadium to remain in the thick of the West Catholic Athletic League race.

Bellarmine's 23-0 shutout of St. Ignatius Friday night was good news for Serra, which can only at best tie for the title after last week's WCAL-opening defeat to SI.

The Padre defense, badly mauled (326 yards total) in that loss, came back strong against the Crusaders, now 0-5. Riordan was held to 51 yards total offense and four first downs — one in the second half.

"Sure, the offense looked good," said Serra coach Jess Freitas, whose Padres are now 5-1. "But the defense deserves a lot of credit for that. It gave us plenty of time to work on offense and some momentum when we needed it."

Quarterback Jim Freitas used that time well. He threw for 130 yards in the first half, including three TD strikes to end John Caselli. Freitas then spent much of the second half handing off to fullback Jim Walsh, who reponded with 109 yards on 20 carries and one score.

Freitas, who has been sacked but once in the six games, has thrown for 752 yards (58-114) and 13 touchdowns. Caselli has 28 receptions for 309 yards, eight of those for scores. Walsh is 93-564 on the ground for 6.1 yards a carry. All are juniors.

A 64-yard bomb to Caselli midway through the second period wiped out a 10-7 Crusader edge and gave Serra the lead for good. Caselli had to come back for the pass down his left sideline, then evaded two defenders at the 25 to go in untouched.

Jeff Morton, a defensive standout at safety, broke the game open by running the second half kickoff back 95 yards to paydirt. "The hole was about as wide as the field," said Morton.

Defensively, the Padres had their best effort of the season. Riordan had only one drive (45 yards) and got its lone second half score when a fumbled pass from center on a punt put the ball at the Serra one.

Lineman Kevin O'Keefe, Matt Walters, Mike Gillogley and linebacker Dennis Maloney led steady pressure on Riordan's QB that accounted for 44 yards in losses.

"I know we can play with anybody in the league," said Freitas, who had his first coaching win over Riordan since 1969, "but we're still showing some inconsistencies and making mistakes that championship teams just don't make. Those have to be taken care of."

PHILIP M. DZIACKO
Navy Sonar Technician Second Class Philip M. Dziacko, son of Mrs. Geraldine C. Dziacko of 71 Vendome Ave., Daly City, is participating in a four-nation Pacific Allied naval exercise called RIMPAC 73.

The exercise, which is being conducted in the Hawaiian Islands area, is designed to test all phases of Allied naval operations, including anti-submarine and anti-air defensive operations. Other participating nations are Australia, Canada, and New Zealand.

A 1968 graduate of Riordan High School, and a former student of San Francisco State University, he joined the Navy in July 1970.

JEFFERY A. BIPES
Navy Seaman Apprentice Jeffery A. Bipes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan J. Bipes of 261 Buena Vista Ave., Daly City, is a crewmember of the nuclear-powered guided missile cruiser USS Long Beach which returned to its homeport in Long Beach.

The ship was deployed for six months with the U.S. Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

Circle Star Date Inked For Lunny

Ray Lunny III, whose fists have been idled by brittle hands, marine reserve summer camp and the flu, in that order, will fight Alberto Reyes of the Philippines November 7 at the Circle Star Theatre in San Carlos.

Lunny, who hasn't fought since July 2 when he kayoed Jimmy Robertson in seven rounds at the Cow Palace, will be making only his fourth appearance of the year. The Redwood City lightweight, unbeaten in 14 fights, has been plagued by brittle hands, hence his fights have been far and few between.

In Reyes, he'll be meeting the featherweight champion of California. Contract provisions call for Lunny to enter the ring at 133 pounds, give or take a pound.

"If he doesn't make that weight, he is liable for suspension," promoter Babe Griffin pointed out. Reyes is expected to enter the ring at 130 pounds.

Reyes boasts a 15-4-1 record, including a 12-round victory over Jorge Ramos. He was unbeaten in 1970- '71 and '73.

The fight could serve as a tuneup for a possible Lunny-Ken Buchanon fight. Buchanon, the former lightweight champion of the world from Stockton, has been contacted by Griffin and is interested in Lunny if the money is right.

Griffin will announce the remainder of the card at a later date.

CSM Harriers' 3rd Without Van Dine

College of San Mateo's cross-country team ran well on its own course to place third among 14 large colleges in the CSM Invitational Saturday. San Jose CC took five of the first 17 places to easily sweep team honors with 41 points to 101 for West Valley and 130 for the Bulldogs.

Cabrillo edged Allan Hancock, 65-68, for small division honors with Skyline fourth with 93 points and Canada tenth with 249.

San Jose's Steve Brooks posted the best time of the day at 20:51:07, just missing Jim Van Dine's record of 20:48 on the four mile course set last year. Van Dine, sidelined with an injury this season, was a spectator Saturday.

Top Bulldog finishers were Ed Barney in 14th place and Rudy Snyders, 19ths.

Cabrillo's Ben De La Garza was the small division winner in 20:53.71 while Skyline's John McVeigh took fifth in 21:45—best clocking by a county runner. Mark Parsons was Canada's first finisher, in 36th place.

PG&E Conservation; No Yule Lights?

The message was to "conserve energy" and the speaker of last Thursday night's meeting between Pacific Gas & Electric Co. officials and North San Mateo County newspapermen wasn't kidding.

So concerned is the utility company with the possible impending shortage of fuels needed to produce energy for local consumption that they have sent a memorandum to their personnel asking them not to light their Christmas trees or other such holiday decorations this year.

The memo was advisory in nature and not an order, A. James McCollum, the company's information manager, assured news media representatives meeting at the Airport Hilton.

McCollum said Northern and Central California have been in "good shape for energy until recent months," but cutbacks in natural gas supplies, continued delays in construction of nuclear plants and difficulties in finding an adequate supply of so-called "non-pollutant" oils needed to produce electricity is now threatening to cause power shortages.

The company has already contacted about 2,000 of its largest electric industrial customers urging them to prepare standby plans under which they could reduce electric consumption if required during emergency periods.

"PG&E is searching diligently all over the world for oil and is continuing its extensive quest for new supplies of natural gas in Canada, the Yukon Territory, the Rocky Mountain area, California and the Southwest," McCollum said.

And rising costs throughout the industry will result in charging consumers higher rates, McCollum predicted.

While asking large electric company customers to cut back wherever possible, McCollum said the company has no intention of forcing households not to use Christmas tree lighting this year.

He said while he hoped Yule lights would be held to a minimum, he cautioned against the use of "real candles" because of the fire hazard involved.

The answer, McCollum said, is nuclear plants capable of producing electricity in sufficient quantities at reasonable costs — perhaps substantially cheaper than at present — if an energy crisis is to be averted.

The state's close proximity to the ocean waters, a vital part of any nuclear plant, is ideal for the use of this power, McCollum said.

PG&E is not alone in its fight to keep pace with growing demands for electricity and heating fuels, it was explained.

Other California utilities face similar problems in finding boiler fuel for steam-electric generation, he said.

The State Public Utilities Commission is now coordinating efforts to meet potential power shortages through establishing curtailment plans on both voluntary and mandatory bases, according to McCollum.

PG&E has fueled its steam- electric generating plants with natural gas 90 to 95 per cent of the time in the past, burning oil only during cold snaps when priority call on gas is given to residential and commercial customers, McCollum said.

The annual requirement for oil, until recently, was some 2 million barrels, and domestic oil supplies were always adequate and priced at about $2 a barrel, McCollum explained.

"Next year," McCollum said, "the company will require 43 million barrels. Under the new air pollution standards it must be low-sulfur oil, which is not available domestically and which is priced currently at about $7 a barrel on the world market."

Even after the company locates and buys the oil it must transport it to plants in the state, he said.

About two-thirds of this non-polluting oil is the Middle East, current scene of a bitter shooting war.

It was the second strong warning to the public on the subject of energy conservation in the last two months of PG&E.

Previously, PG&E's Vance Seaman told the Daly City Rotary Club of the company's plight and asked for their cooperation in the matter.

Egyptian Artifacts Under Study

Egyptian artifacts from 4000 B.C., including two mummies, from the Sutro Egyptian Collection are being studied and classified by a Museum Training class at San Francisco State University conducted by Dr. Andreina Becker-Colonna, Professor of Classics.

These relics from the Nile delta are on loan to the University from George Whitney, operator of the concessions at the former Ocean Beach amusement area. He acquired the material from Egypt along with his acquisition of the Sutro Museum and Baths. That structure, nearby the Cliff House, was demolished several years ago. It was built by former Mayor Adolph Sutro, who died in 1898, two years after it was constructed.

In addition to the mummies the Collection contains some 400 art objects. Included in the treasure are glass jewelry, numerous vases made from alabaster, religious cult statues of both wood and stone, and a replica of a three-foot long boat with carved figures of men, the material is being x-rayed to build historical detail on ancient Egyptian technology.

SM County Names New Officers

Twenty six persons were named to office this week in San Mateo County with no contest whatever.

They will serve on the governing boards of 14 water, fire, police, and sewer taxing agencies in North County, South County, and the Coastside without so much as a whisper of a mandate from the people.

The Board of Supervisors reluctantly appointed the list of 26 directors to office in lieu of election when County Clerk-Recorder Marvin Church indicated there was no opposition and therefore no election contest.

Still open, Church said, is one seat on the Guadalupe Valley Improvement district board—the district that governs a portion of San Bruno Mountain, and another on the Los Trancos. Water district board.

List of the agencies and North County appointees follow:

Colma Fire Protection district, Paul Sanguinetti Jr.; Broadmoor Police Protection district, John F. McCloskey Jr. and Kevin M. McDonald; Dimond Public Utility district, Charles F. Mason; Bayshore Sanitary district, Elmer J. Aydelott and John Broda; Westborough County Water district, William A. Craib, Garo N. Dorian, and Roland Bianchi.

Making Do—Deliciously

When food prices are high and some groceries scarce, it requires a great deal of ingenuity and careful planning to set a good table. It means making the most of available foods and seasoning dishes with artistry.

These recipes can help keep family meals nutritious and flavorful and to make entertaining friends a continuing possibility.

The Cottage Cheese Meat and Noodle Casserole illustrates the way small amounts of beef can be combined with cottage cheese to provide desirable good quality protein in the menu. Sour cream, mayonnaise and well-chosen seasonings give this noodle based casserole gourmet flavor. With it, serve a platter of colorful vegetables.

On another occasion, the vegetable platter can serve as the main course by adding flavorful Cheese Fondue Sauce. Use part of the fondue mixture as a sauce for the vegetables and serve cubes of bread on the side for dipping into the rest of the hot cheese mixture. Cheese Fondue Sauce is an excellent dip for parties, too.

Savory Rice Loaf is hearty enought to serve as a main dish on meatless days and equally good as an accompaniement to baked ham or cold cuts.

All three of these recipes were developed in the Best Foods kitchens.

COTTAGE CHEESE-MEAT AND NOODLE CASSEROLE

- 1 tablespoon margarine
- ½ cup chopped onion
- ½ pound ground beef
- 3 cups (8-ounce package) cooked noodles
- 1 cup creamed cottage cheese
- ½ cup dairy sour cream
- ½ cup real mayonnaise
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ½ teaspoon salt
- Paprika

Melt margarine in skillet over low heat; add onion and saute until golden. Add beef and cook until browned. Mix in noodles and cottage cheese. Mix together sour cream, mayonnaise, Worcestershire sauce and salt; add all but¼ cup to meat mixture and toss lightly. Turn into ungreased two-quart casserole. Spread top with remaining ¼ cup mayonnaise mixture and sprinkle with paprika. Bake in 350-deg. F. oven 20 to 30 minutes or until bubbly. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

CHEESE FONDUE SAUCE

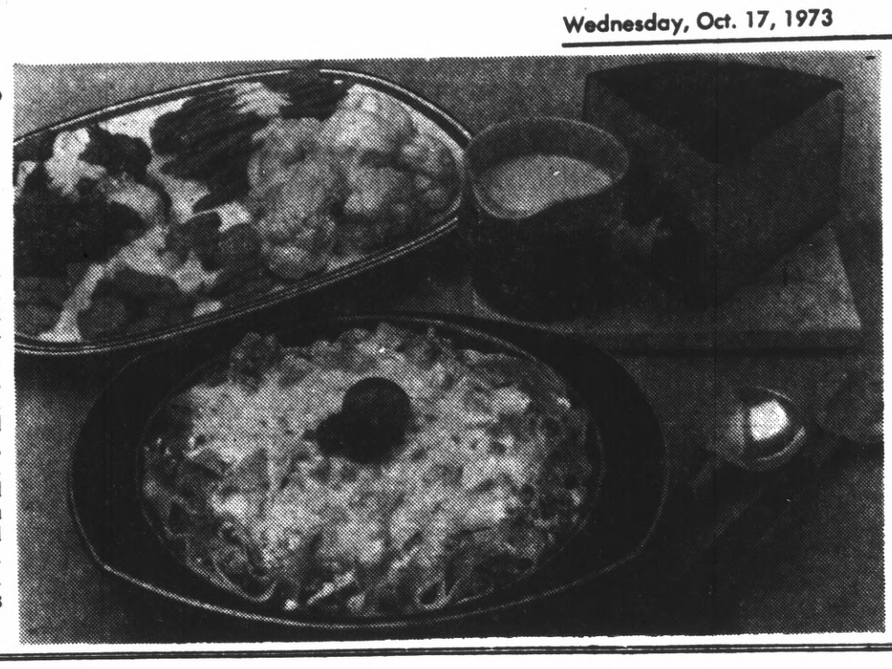
- ½ cup milk
- ¼ cup white wine
- ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ¼ teaspoon dry mustard
- Dash white pepper
- 1 cup real mayonnaise
- 2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese

Mix together milk, wine, Worcestershire sauce, mustard, pepper, mayonnaise and cheese in 2-quart saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, about 20 minutes or until cheese is melted and mixture is hot. Serve spooned over hot cooked vegetables. Note: This sauce may also be used as a dip by serving from a fondue pot or chafing dish. With the dip, serve chunks of French bread on fondue forks or wooden picks.

SAVORY RICE LOAF

- 1 tablespoon margarine
- 2-thirds cup chopped green pepper
- 1-third cup finely chopped onion
- 1 can (3 to 4 oz.) sliced mushrooms
- ½ cup real mayonnaise
- 4 cups hot cooked rice
- 2-thirds cup finely shredded Cheddar cheese
- 2-thirds cup fine dry bread crumbs
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- Parsley

Melt margarine in small skillet. Add green pepper, onion and mushrooms. Cook over low heat, stirring frequently, just until tender. Mix together mayonnaise, rice, cheese, bread crumbs, salt, pepper and sauteed vegetables in large bowl, tossing until well mixed. Press into 1 greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Bake in 350-degree oven until well heated, about 30 minutes. Unmold onto serving platter. Garnish with parsley. Makes 6 servings.



COTTAGE Cheese Meat and Noodle Casserole and a platter of vegetables served with Cheese Fondue Sauce are two ways to stretch the food budget while still setting a good table.

Food for Life

Fat: All A Matter Of Intake

GEORGE M. BRIGGS, Ph.D.
Nutritionist

Humans and farm animals tend to grow fat in the same way: by eating too many carbohydrates. A farmer fattens his cattle, pigs and poultry by feeding them all the carbohydrates they will eat — usually in the form of corn, wheat or sorghum.

However, extra weight in humans is not the advantage it is in animals. People who eat more carbohydrates than they need pile on the pounds in the form of a saturated fat that most of us try to avoid in excess. It has the same composition as lard — highly saturated and containing some cholesterol. Of course, too much fat in our diets also contributes to our store of body fat.

The body doesn't store extra sugars and starches (the carbohydrates) but converts them into fat for future use. Fats cushion vital organs, insulate the body, and provide a source of energy during emergencies and food shortages. It is a very efficient way to store energy, since a pound of fat produces about 3500 calories, nearly double the same amount of carbohydrates.

Naturally, if we don't eat more carbohydrates than our bodies can use, the carbohydrates are converted directly to energy instead of turning into fat.

Despite all that we hear about avoiding extra fat — especially saturated animal fat — what really counts is how many extra calories we eat in any form. Those extras all wind up in the same place — body fat.

So you can take your choice: two large extra tablespoons of sugar or starch, or one extra tablespoon of lard. In terms of fat, they're just about the same thing to the body.

More Urns Taken from Skylawn Memorial Park

Theft of 38 bronze flower urns, valued at $1,740, from the Skylawn Memorial Park on Skyline Boulevard, was reported Monday, bringing the total of number of vases reported stolen in the past week to 73 and the loss to $2,125.

Gerald F. Speer, 52, of Foster City, superintendent of the cemetery, reported to Deputy Sheriff James N. Gramkan that a nighttime thief apparently snapped small chains holding the custom-made vases to gravestones, leaving holes in the stones.

The latest thefts occurred Friday or Saturday from various parts of the cemetery, Speer said. On Friday, Speer reported 15 urns had been taken from the Pacific View Plot on Wednesday night.

Boy Born in DC

Dave and Denise Barone, of Castle Street, Daly City, announced the birth of their son, David Dino Barone, at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday at Kaiser Hospital, San Francisco.

The grandparents are Dino and Marge Donati, 19Castlemont St., Daly City.

2 Hurt in San Bruno

San Bruno's busiest intersection claimed two more victims last week.

They were drivers Julio de Leon, 27, San Francisco, driving uphill on San Bruno Avenue, and Frank Wilkin, 59, Brisbane, driving his car southbound on El Camino Real.

Police alleged that de Leon drove through the red light demolishing his 1972 car in the impact with Wilkin's car, which sustained major damage.

The drivers were taken by ambulance to South San Francisco Kaiser Hospital where they were admitted for treatment.

Proposition 1 Forum Scheduled By League

A public forum on "Proposition 1," Gov. Ronald Reagan's property tax initiative, will be sponsored Oct. 25 at Millbrae City Hall by the League of Women Voters.

Proposition 1 goes before California voters Nov. 6. It would limit the state's spending ability to a declining percentage of the total personal income of Californians.

Speakers will include:

Net Hutchinson, appointments assistant to Gov. Reagan. Hutchinson, a resident of San Mateo County, has been campaigning throughout the state of behalf of the governor and is considered to be a well-informed and articulate spokesman for the governor's initiative. As appointments assistant, he is responsible for clearing gubernatorial appointments to state judicial and administrative positions.

Mrs. Mem Levin, past president of the San Mateo Chapter, League of Women Voters. Mrs. Levin has gained recent attention as one of the league's most effective opponents of the initiative.

Bruce Whitley, manager of the El Rancho Motel in Millbrae, will moderate the forum.

The forum is billed as being the only impartial, nonpartisan forum on Proposition 1 to be held in the North Peninsula area. The public is invited. Admission is free.

Peninsula Deaths

FREDERICK JESNICK

Frederick C. Jesnick, 67, 319 Lux Ave., South San Francisco, died Friday.

A native of Iowa, he was a longtime resident of South San Francisco. He was a member of the Machinist Union, Local 1327, of San Mateo.

Survivors include his widow, Mabel; three daughters, Tinky Wood of Iowa, Betty Cardiel of South San Francisco and Patricia Bebout of Milpitas; two sisters, Julia Graham and Mena Jesnick of Iowa, 12 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Prayers and blessings were held Monday from Nauman and Lincoln Mortuary, South San Francisco, followed by interment at Holy Cross Cemetery.

HENRY WOOLWORTH

Funeral services will be held Wednesday, 1 p.m., for Henry "Hank" Woolworth, 42, 700 Circle Ct., South San Francisco, who died Sunday.

He was a member of Teamsters' Union, Local 85, a member of the Moose Lodge of San Bruno, and a U.S. Air Force veteran of the Korean conflict.

Survivors include his widow, Helen; his son, Gregory; his daughter, Roberta; his brothe, Donald of Santa Rosa; his sister, Ilafa Dickson of Flagstaff, Ariz., and his father, Homer Woolworth of San Francisco.

A native of Oklahoma, he was a long-time resident of San Mateo County. Funeral services will be at Nauman and Lincoln Mortuary, followed by interment at Skylawn Memorial Park.

MARGHERITA BONINO

Margherita M. Bonino, 86, 549 Baden Ave., a retired employe of Swift & Co., died Saturday.

A native of Italy, she had lived in South San Francisco for 63 years.

Surviving are a son, Angelo Bonino; two daughters, Desolina Martin and Mary Schauer; nine grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren, all of South San Francisco.

Funeral services were held Tuesday from Nauman and Lincoln Mortuary in South San Francisco, thence to All Souls Catholic Church where a Requiem Mass was offered.

Entombment followed at Italian Cemetery.

Honored by Boy Scouts

Boy Scout School Night to Join Scouting, for San Mateo County, Oct. 11, was the date of the recent honoring of North County's Al Schwarzbach by San Francisco metropolitan radio station KABL as its Citizen of the Day.

Schwarzbach was cited for his outstanding contribution to Scouting and to the San Mateo County community, as San Mateo's countywide membership chairman.

A member of the Boy Scout Executive Board, Schwarzbach is also a member of the San Francisco Bay Girl Scout Council Executive Boad and is employed as an Assistant Vice President at Crocker Bank in its bank properties department.

In a letter received from Knowles L. Hall, general manager of KABL, Schwarzbach was cited for "hard work in recruiting young men to become Boy Scouts" and received a certificate signed by Hall and Peter H. Starr, president of KABL music.

Proclamation

Daly City Mayor Tony Giammona yesterday issued a proclamation declaring Oct. 21 as National Catholic Daughters of America Day.

The Catholic Daughters of America was founded by the Knights of Columbus in 1903.

Hotel Planned

A public hearing of plans for the R.E.C. corporation 14-story office building-hotel complex at Old Bayshore and Millbrae Avenue, was scheduled last week by the Millbrae Planning Commission.

Commissioner Kenneth Rives asked that certain "discrepancies" in the plans be cleared up before that hearing.

He said the corporation's environmental impact statement indicates there will be a 9-story office building, a 14-story hotel and a low-rise parking structure.

Plans, he said, show two 14-sotry buildings, plus the 9-story structure and parking garage.

Boys Accused Of Setting Fires

Three boys were accused by Pacifica fireman Oct. 11 of setting a series of daily grass fires during the past week.

According to Assistant Fire Chief Bob Bingham, the boys, all described as ninth-grade high school students, had been spending their lunch hour walking along a path above the Good Shepherd Catholic School and throwing matches into the brush.

LEGAL NOTICES LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
(Advertisement for Bids)

1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, will receive sealed bids for the furnishing of all labor, tools, materials, equipment, transportation and services required for the Overhead Baffles and Backstop, Phase II, West Side, Coyote Point Rifle Range, San Mateo.

2. Each bid shall be in accordance with drawings, specifications and contract documents prepared therefor now on file with the Purchasing Agent, County of San Mateo, Office Building Annex, Redwood City, California.

3. Drawings, Specifications and contract documents may be examined and copies obtained at the Office of the Director of Building Construction and General Services, 590 Hamilton Street, County Office Building, Redwood City, California, upon deposit of $25.00 for said documents, which deposits will be forfeited if the Contractor fails to return the drawings and specifications in good condition within ten (10) days of the bid opening date.

4. A complete set of drawings, specifications and contract documents may be examined at the Office of the San Mateo County Director of Building Construction, County Government Center, County Office Building, Redwood City, California.

5. Bidders are responsible to see that they obtain a complete set of plans, specifications and contract documents covering the work upon which they submit a bid.

6. Bids shall be submitted upon proposal forms furnished and bound in the specifications and in accordance with regulations, as set forth in the General Conditions, and shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for ten per cent (10%) of the bid as noted in said General Conditions.

7. Bids shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo at the Hall of Justice and Records, Redwood City, California, on or before the 30th day of October, 1973, at 2:00 p.m. and will be opened in public in the Chambers of said Board of Supervisors at or about 2:00 p.m. of that day in said Hall of Justice and Records.

8. The Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, reserves the right to reject any and all bids, alternate bids or unit prices and/or waive any irregularities in any bid received.

9. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

10. WAGE RATES: The Board of Supervisors has determined and has had published the rates of prevailing wages in the County of San Mateo, in which the work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to perform the contract. Said prevailing rates are set forth on listing, copies of which are set forth in the specifications for the work, in the offices of the County Clerk, Purchasing Agent and Director of Building Construction. Crafts and rates per hour for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to perform this contract are listed under Wage Rates, Instructions to Bidders.

11. The prevailing rates so determined are based on an 8-hour day, 40-hour week, except as otherwise noted. Existing agreements between the Building Trades and the Construction Industry groups relative to overtime, holidays and other special provisions shall be recognized.

12. It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor, and upon any subcontractors under him, to pay not less than the said specific rates to all laborers, workmen or mechanics employed by them in the execution of this Contract.

13. A Bond will be required for the faithful performance of the contract in amount of not less than One Hundred Per Cent (100%) of the amount of the bid, and a bond will be required to guarantee the payment of wages for services engaged and all bids contracted for materials used in the performance of the contract in an amount of not less than One Hundred Per Cent (100%) of the Bid.

Criterium Race Tanforan

SCENES LIKE THIS will be evidenced when America's top bicycle racers compete at Tanforan Park Shopping Center at noon, Oct. 21. Members of past Olympic teams, five California State Champions and the U.S.A. team will race 20 miles on a short, tricky course.
(Photo by Ted Mock)

The Tanforan Park Criterium bicycle race will be held at noon, Oct. 21.

The European style race will feature members of past Olympic teams, five California champions and the U.S.A. team to the Junior World Championships.

Pedali Alpini, the sponsoring club, has been granted sanction by the Amateur Bicycle League of America to hold this event which test some of the fastest riders in the country.

Total race distance is twenty miles from start to finish on a tricky four-tenths of a mile circuit.

This race will be the last event of the Northern California Racing season and will be held on Tanforan Park Shopping Center's rear parking lot, located at Sneath Lane and Huntington Avenue, San Bruno.

Admission is free.

Riders to watch include former members of the U.S. Olympic team (No. 35) Jack Disney, Northern California senior sprint champion. Jack has been a member on four U.S. Olympic teams; (No. 21) Bob Tetzlaff, former member of the 196 Olympic team and winner of this year's Modesto Criterium; (No. 20) Tim Kelly, a member of the 1972 Olympic long team. He has not raced this year due to injuries.

Northern California State champions: (No. 4) Matt Criste, 1000 meter time trial state champion and winner of the Salinas Criterium; (No. 11) Don Peterson, veteran state road champion; (No. 15) Jeff Wagner, junior stste track champion; (No. 24) Rod Jewett, junior state road champion; (No. 27), Dave Boll, New Jersey state road champion.

Serra High Parents Set Get-Togethers

Mothers of Serra High School students are beginning a series of pyramid get-togethers this month throughout the county. Everything from morning coffees to noon luncheons and evening desserts are being planned for families and friends of Serra.

"We are publicizing our big April rummage sale," said Mrs. Robert Keefe of Hillsborough, chairman for the mini-events. "This is a good way to get many mothers involved, to tell them our needs and to get their ideas."

Members of the Serra Mothers' Auxiliary executive board are launching the affairs which will last through early November.

These originting hostesses are Mrs. Keefe and the Mmes. Hough, Thomas Meyersieck, John Cruden and Eugene Bleck of Hillsborough; James E. Howell, Lynn King, William Parun and Gerald Forbes of San Mateo; Mario Galeotti and Richard Harnett, South San Francisco; James Tscharner, San Bruno; Matthew Vuksinich, Redwood City; M. J. Sullivan, Woodside, and Tevis Martin, San Carlos.

El Camino Parents Club Plans a Benefit Dance

Tickets are on sale for the benefit dance to be held by the El Camino High School Performing Arts Parents Club, Oct. 27.

Price is $3 a person.

The dance will be held in the Machinists Hall, 1450 Rollins Road, Burlingame, with music by the El Camino Stage Band.

The doors will open at 8 p.m., with dancing to begin at 9 p.m. A free buffet will be served at midnight. Cocktails will be available throughout the evening.

George Macias and Jim David are co-chairmen of the affair, which is expected to attract about 250 people. The group has been sponsoring a dance annually for five years for the benefit of the performing arts department and the students.

Macias announced that proceeds from this year's dance will be used to purchase specialized lighting for the El Camino Little Theater.

In the past the dance revenues have been used to purchase band uniforms, dresses for the girls' chorus and a portable public address system.

Others responsible for various arrangements include Ron Casassa, tickets; Vernon Ware, refreshments; Betty Ware, decorations, and Gloria Yasinitsky, door prizes. The band will be under the direction of instructor Ted Marr.

Tickets can be ordered by contacting any member of the Performing Arts Parents Club, or by calling 589-5631.

Home Society Chapter List Of Officers

Children's Home Society — Sand Castles Chapter of Pacifica, held its second meeting of the year in October. Its voluntary services and fund-raising projects help CHS, the oldest private adoptive agency in California.

Their services include counseling of unmarried expectant mothers, adoptive parents and parental problems, placement of children for adoption, and foster home care for their children.

Officers for 1973-1974:

President, Betty Chandler; vice president, Dora McMillian; recording secretary, jdkiana Scott; corresponding secretary, Linda Obujen; treasurer, Ann O'Rourke; historian, Hilda Plate; publicity, Ollie Stamps; parliamentarian, Marge Baumgartner; membership, Hazel Beck; telephone, Joan Addleman.

Final plans were made for their up-coming annual luncheon-fashion show boutkque Nov. 17 at the San Mateo Elks Club.

Rodeo Mini-Preview at Center

A mini-preview of the 1973 Grand National Rodeo will be presented free at Tanforan Park Shopping Center Oct. 21.

On hand to entertain will be famed rodeo clown Chuck Henson and trick roper Brian Rosser.

Youngsters may try their hand at roping a wooden practice steer.

Three shows will be held inside on the central mall at 2 p.m., 3:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Tanforan is located at El Camino Real and Sneath Lane in San Bruno.

The 1973 Grand National Show opens Oct. 26 at the Cow Palace for 10 days of rodeo action, horse show events and the biggest livestock exposition this side of the Rockies.

Hallowe'en Parade for Youngsters

Tanforan Park's third Hallowe'en parade will be held in the Mall at 10 a.m., Oct. 27.

Children from four to 11 years old may participate.

Prizes will be awarded in three age categories: 4 and 5 years, 6, 7 and 8 years, and 9, 10 and 11 years old.

All children will receive a free Hallowe'en "safety" bag.

Children are to meet on the lower mall, between Walgreens and Sears, at 10 a.m.

Plans Formulated for Cancer Education Week

Plans are being formulated for "Cancer Education Week," Nov. 11-17, according to Mrs. Carl Berg of San Mateo, coordinating chairman for the American Cancer Society's San Mateo unit. "Our program this year will be to inform the community of the importance of Uterine Cancer Control," said Mrs. Berg.

Films and speakers will be available to interested groups.

Branch education chairmen who will be working in their areas include: Mrs. Clinton Murphy of South San Francisco. Chairmen still are needed for Daly City, San Bruno, Millbrae, and Burlingame, as well as the coastal communities.

The purpose of Cancer Education Week will be to remind every woman in the county who has not had a Pap test within the last year, to make an appointment and have it done.

Cancer Education Week also will mark the beginning of a four-year task force study on uterine cancer which will be headed by Dr. John Quilici of Burlingame. The project will make it possible to evaluate current statistics on the incidents of uterine cancer in the county.

Dr. Quilici noted, "In a 1969-1971 age adjusted incident rate report, San Mateo County had the lowest incidence rates for invasive cancer of the cervix. We feel this has come about partly because of local educational programs."

New First Aid Course Slated

The San Mateo Region Red Cross will offer the first 15-hour Standard First Aid course out of its new First Aid textbook. The course will be held at the local office, 1449 Bellevue Ave., Burlingame, beginning Oct. 19. The course will be held on consecutive Fridays until Nov. 30, 9:30 a.m. to noon.

William K. Graham, chairman of San Mateo Region first aid, requests persons who are interested in receiving this updated training to call 343-4561 for reservations.

Graham said the new first aid textbook was published by Red Cross in September in a campaign to cut the nation's devastating death and accident rate.

He said the new texts are the most comprehensive books Red Cross has produced since 1910. Paperback edition of this book is $1.95.

Red Cross said it reserves the right to cancel this course unless 12 people make reservations in advance.

USF Admissions Chief to Visit

Chris Brandmeir, assistant director of admissions, University of San Francisco, will be at Pacifica's Oceana and Terra Nova High Schools, Oct. 25 to discuss USF's curriculum and academic requirements with high school students.

Brandmeir will visit Oceana at 11 a.m., and Terra Nova at 1:30 p.m.
